Derelict pub set alight by arsonists

ARSONISTS set fire to a derelict Hedgesford pub.

Three fire crews were called to the former Globe Inn in East Cannock Road. The boarded-up pub, which has been shut for several years, has been a target for vandals over the years and travellers pitched up on the car park last May.

Police closed part of East Cannock Road for several hours and cars were diverted away from the scene.

The fire broke out at around 3pm on Monday. It started in a back room and caused significant damage in the building.

Graham Mills, tactical adviser from Staffordshire Fire Rescue Service, said: "There has been a fire at the rear of the pub. The fire has caused significant damage to the rear of the property."

At the height of the blaze, 15 firefighters from Chase Terrace and Cannock stations tackled the flames.

Staffordshire Police spokesman Sarah Davison added: "Initial examinations have indicated the fire was caused deliberately and an investigation will take place. Officers attended to assist with initial road closures while colleagues from the fire service worked to extinguish the fire."

Anyone with information is urged to call police on 101.

Julie could have been evil killer's first victim

Attack - Julie Taylor

THE victim who was strangled and left for dead by notorious child killer Raymond Morris has told of her relief as he died behind bars.

Julie Taylor was just eight-years-old when she was lured into the murderer's car after he pretended to be a relative on December 2, 1964.

He sexually assaulted and viciously attacked her, before dumping her on land in Bentley Lane, Willenhall on the freezing winter night.

Hours later her whimpering was heard by a passing cyclist. Three years later he went on to kill Christine Darby, seven, and was the prime suspect in the murders of five-year-old Diane Tift and Margaret Reynolds, six.

Julie, now a 58-year-old married mother-of-two, said: "He left me for dead and I'm lucky to be alive. But he doesn't deserve a burial and I hope he rots in hell because he is the devil himself."

Recalling that bitterly cold evening, Julie said she was approached as she walked home from a family party.

She said: "It was a cold Tuesday evening and I went to my cousin's party although my dad had told me not to go. On my way home I saw a car parked about three doors away from our house."

"This bloke said he was my Uncle Len. I did have an Uncle Len who I hadn't seen since I was five and my mom had told me he was coming home for Christmas from the Army."

"The man said he would take me to my aunt's so I went in the car with him. As we were driving along he struck up conversation and offered me sweets which were on the back seat, but I recall that I didn't like the one I ate and spat it out.

"Then he started asking about what I was wearing which I thought was odd. I realised then that he wasn't my uncle and that something wasn't right. I got agitated and tried to get out of the car."

Julie blacked out but remembers a passer-by finding her in a terrible state.

Indecent exposure charges admitted

A MAN indecently exposed himself to three women as they walked their dogs, a court heard.

Dale Hughes, aged 21, indecently exposed himself on three separate occasions in the Limepit Lane and Pottal Pool areas between November 9 and January 5.

Prosecuting, Mr John Peel told Cannock magistrates the women had been walking their dogs when they were approached.

Hughes of Huntington Terrace Road, Cannock, pleaded guilty to three counts of indecent exposure.

He initially denied any wrongdoing and claimed he was in the wrong place at the wrong time.

He said he was worried about going to prison but could not explain his actions and admitted he had made the women fear for their safety but said 'it was a laugh'.

Mr Chris Stapleton, defending, said: "He could not explain why he had exposed himself to these three women but maybe this young man is advised to get medical health treatment and psychological input."

The case was adjourned for reports until April 7. Hughes was granted bail and ordered not to enter the areas of Cannock where he had exposed himself.

Backing for breastfeeding

A HEALTH boss has backed a young mother over a town centre protest, staged after she was labelled a 'tramp' for breastfeeding in public.

Hundreds of people joined Emily Slough to take part in a mass protest in the centre of Rugeley last Saturday (March 15).

Staffordshire County Council health chief Councillor Robbie Marshall said: "Every event promoting breastfeeding is worth backing."

AXE TO FALL ON YOUTH CENTRES

COUNCIL-RUN youth clubs in Cannock, Huntington and Burntwood will be closed after the controversial move was approved by council bosses as part of £102 million cuts.

Staffordshire County Council, whose cabinet approved the move at a meeting yesterday (Wednesday), says traditional youth clubs are out of date and cost too much money to run.

Those set to close include Balfour House and Hazel Slade Youth Centre in Cannock, Burntwood Youth Centre, Littleton Youth Centre in Huntington, Armitage Youth Centre and Rugeley Youth Centre.

A total of 34 will shut across the county unless volunteers decide to take over the running of the services.

More than 300 youth workers are set to lose their jobs and could be made redundant by August, Union bosses said.

The decision was approved despite more than 16,000 people signing a petition to save the services.

Devastating

Youth worker John Butcher, who is chairman of the Youth Workers sector of Unite the union, said: "It is disgusting how they can make this decision."

"More than 16,000 people - the majority of whom are young people - signed a petition to save the services. It is devastating."

"Youth workers are like cheaper social workers and are professionally trained to deal with a whole range of things like domestic violence and those from deprived backgrounds which volunteers aren't."

"Where are the 15,000 young people who use youth clubs going to go?"

By Rob Gollidge

The council aims to cut £4.5m from the youth services budget, arguing that only one in five of 73,000 young people living in Staffordshire currently use council-run clubs

Councillor Mark Sutton said: "Three quarters of young people have effectively already told us that traditional council-run youth clubs no longer meet their needs by not attending - and at a time where we need to make those most of the resources is available, it is difficult to justify spending millions on clubs that are not fully used or wanted by the majority of young people."

"Council-run youth clubs have served well in the past, but there are so many clubs, groups and activities available today that the vast majority of young people simply no longer want to attend a traditional youth club."

"The time is right to change to focus much more on what young people do want and less on what they don't want and don't use."

Boxing clever with gym idea

PLANS to open a new boxing gym to get youngsters off the streets have been unveiled.

Adam Paget and 35-year-old professional boxer Reagan Denton, who runs Sheffield-based boxing gym The Hood, hope to set up a club in Hednesford.

The pair are looking for a base and are appealing to businesses for funding to help support their project.

Mr Paget, aged 44, of Hednesford, said: "We decided to open a boxing gym in Hednesford."

"It's to give everybody another chance, to re-educate people with respect and discipline."

"We are looking to open it at the end of spring and having been looking at premises. We are also looking at ways to get funding and are asking local businesses for support."

Anyone who can make a donation towards the project is asked to call Mr Paget on 07785 013857.

Josef onto a winner with design

AN 11-year-old Rugeley boy has won an iPod Nano in a competition run by Cannock Chase Council and Staffordshire Police. Schools from across the district were asked to design the Pumpkin Patrol vehicle that will be rolled out later this year.

The council received more than 60 entries, with Josef Mayores, from Hagley Park

Academy named as the winner. This design will be produced professionally by the council's graphic designer. Council leader George Adamson said: "It was great to see so many youngsters taking part. The initiative proved to be a great success by reducing anti-social behaviour."

The campaign aimed to raise awareness of how members of the community can become distressed by unexpected trick or treaters and the nuisance and dangers of fires and fireworks on bonfire night.

It involved a specially liveried vehicle taking to the streets and handing out safety information, providing simple dos and don'ts to residents.

Home visits will lead to fall in A&E numbers

GPS will visit patients in their homes to cut the number of visits to A&E in a pilot programme being rolled out.

A&E at Stafford Hospital will only be open for 14 hours a day after health secretary Jeremy Hunt approved plans to dissolve the trust that runs the site.

And health chiefs hope this new system will relieve pressure on emergency departments.

Woman is pulled from house fire

A WOMAN and her dog were rescued from their blazing home near Cannock.

The blaze was the 59th accidental house fire covered by Cannock fire station since last April – an increase from 38 over the 12 months previously. Firefighters are urging people to be extra vigilant.

Two crews from Cannock and one from Penkridge tackled the fire at the bungalow in Wood Lane, Wedges Mills at around 1.40pm last Wednesday, March 12.

Firefighters wearing breathing apparatus used two hose reel jets to put out the flames.

They rescued the female occupant and her dog from the utility room. The lady was taken to Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham by ambulance.

Prevention manager Carmel Warren said: "This was a very serious incident. Our crews are out and about on a daily basis, giving residents potentially life-saving advice and booking Home Fire Risk Checks but we also need people to take responsibility for their own safety."

To book a HFRC call Freephone 0800 0241 999, text 07528 983101 or visit www.staffordshirefire.gov.uk/bookyourhfr.asp

Doctors will carry out urgent afternoon visits for patients unable to wait for a GP to visit after evening surgery who may otherwise have called an ambulance or gone to A&E themselves.

The new scheme is being trialled by the Stafford and Surrounds Clinical Commissioning (CCG) and GP First, a federation of all 41 GP practices in Cannock and Stafford CCGs.

Dr Sue Knight, urgent care lead for Stafford and Surrounds and Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Groups, said: "The Acute Visiting Service is a rapid-response service for patients requiring a home visit as determined by their own GP."

Registered

"It's set up to meet the immediate needs of patients who, if they are not seen promptly, would ultimately be admitted to or at least have to attend A&E."

The service is available between 1.30pm and 6pm to all patients registered with a GP in specific practices requiring urgent home assessment or treatment following triage by their own GP.

It covers clinical conditions like frail, elderly patients, the generally unwell, abdominal pain, patients nearing the end of their life and some mental health conditions.

It also covers patients at nursing homes triaged by a GP and in need of an urgent enhanced clinical assessment and treatment.

Boys braced for sales boost

YOUNG adventurers from Cheslyn Hay Boys' Brigade have turned survival craft into a fundraising enterprise. The group's own adventurer Glyn Morris taught the lads how to transform 8ft of cord into a wristband that serves as an emergency aid and can even act as replacement shoelaces.

The activity proved such a success that the wristbands will go on sale.

Glyn said: "The lads really enjoyed learning a new skill. They were so good at making the emergency bands and were really eager to continue after we had planned to finish our activity."

"The result was a ready made stock of the emergency bands which entrepreneurial members of the group suggested selling to boost funds."

Burley is critical of Labour's EU stance

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has criticised Labour leader Ed Miliband over the party's announcement on an EU referendum.

Mr Miliband said a Labour government would only give British people a say on membership of the European Union if more powers were taken away.

Mr Burley said: "Our relationship with Europe isn't working and it needs to change, and it is clear from speaking with local people, of whichever party and whether they are for or against the EU, that they want to be able to have another vote."

Decide

"David Cameron has set out a plan to seek a new settlement for Britain in Europe, and will then let the British people decide in an in-out referendum by the end of 2017. Ed Miliband said there won't be a referendum under the Labour party."

"The Liberal Democrats won't have one either and UKIP can't deliver on their promises."

"There's no doubt the only way people in Cannock Chase can get a say on Britain's membership of the EU is by voting Conservative."

Raymond Morris is taken to court with a blanket over his head

An Austin saloon car which belonged to child killer Morris

Maureen Freeman

Ex-officer relieved at end of a chapter

A POLICE officer who helped bring Raymond Morris described his death as 'the end of a chapter'.

Maureen Freeman was only two years into her career with Staffordshire Police when a little girl's body was discovered on Cannock Chase.

Then aged 23, she played a pivotal role in the investigation that led to the eventual arrest of the notorious child killer.

She admitted a sense of relief that he had died – but said the pain would live on for the families he had torn apart.

Ms Freeman said: "My immediate thought when I heard he had died, was that this really brings some closure in a way.

"This man haunts me – every time something has happened with him I can see his face. It is still a big part of my life.

"As a police officer you can't show any emotions but it has all come back to me now."

Miss Freeman, now a Cannock Chase district councillor and living in Park Road, Cannock, said the families would be in her thoughts, adding: "It can never be the end of the chapter for them."

Report by Laura Blyth

HE was described as 'cold, cruel and just plain wicked'.

Child killer Raymond Morris, 'the Cannock Chase Murderer', was sentenced to life in jail for the horrific rape and murder of schoolgirl Christine Darby in the 1960s.

He was prime suspect, though never charged, over the killings of six-year-old Margaret Reynolds, of Aston, Birmingham and Diane Joy Tift, five, of Bloxwich in 1966.

Morris made a bid to be released, with his solicitors claiming to have uncovered police misconduct, but the case was rejected by the Criminal Cases Review Commission in 2010.

Searched

Then in February this year it was confirmed the killer would die in jail after the Court of Appeal found whole life sentences should continue to be used for the most serious of crimes following a ruling by the European Courts.

Margaret Reynolds went missing on her way to school in Aston on September 8, 1965. Two thousand people searched for the youngster following her disappearance.

Then Diane Tift disappeared on a short walk to her grandmother's house in Bloxwich on December 30. The bodies of both girls were found by a workman dumped in a ditch at Mansty Gully on Cannock Chase on January 12, 1966.

A huge police investigation followed.

Child killer Raymond Morris

Then, in August 19, 1967 seven-year-old Christine Darby was enticed into a grey Austin A55 car by a man near her home in Camden Street, Walsall. The youngster had left her home to play with friends when she was kidnapped at around 2pm.

Witnesses said they saw a man who spoke in a local accent in a grey car. Search parties were sent out to try to find the youngster. More than 1,000 people joined the search.

Descriptions of the suspect car led detectives to question various locals, including Morris. As the search for Christine intensified, a policeman found the youngster's underwear on the Chase and Scotland Yard detectives were called in. Christine's body was found by a soldier on August 22, 1967, only a mile from where Margaret and Diane were discovered.

Margaret Reynolds, discovered on Chase

The three murders were similar in that each victim was coaxed into a car while near her home, then killed after being sexually assaulted. Christine, Margaret and Diane lived within a 17-mile radius of each other and near the A34 that passes through Cannock Chase.

Some 150 detectives visited 39,000 homes, interviewed 80,000 people and checked more than a million car forms.

The hunt was led by Sir Stanley Bailey, Staffordshire's Assistant Chief Constable at the time. A team was brought together and murder headquarters was set up in New Penkridge Road, Cannock.

Victim Christine Darby

The breakthrough came on November 4, 1968, when 10-year-old Margaret Aulton escaped an abduction attempt by a man driving a green and white Ford Corsair in Walsall.

Alibi

A witness, a housewife, noted the car's registration number, which police later traced back to Morris.

Throughout the investigation, Morris had been spoken to on four occasions but he was ruled out of Christine's death after his wife Carol gave him an alibi.

Diane Tift was murdered at the age of five

But, after discovering pornographic images of children in his flat, his wife turned him in to police and admitted the alibi she gave was false. Police arrested Morris 15 months after Christine's body was found.

Morris, who was born in Walsall and lived in a council-owned flat in Green Lane, was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment in February 1969. The former engineer was locked up for nearly 45 years.

Former detective chief superintendent Pat Molloy, one of three leading officers on the case, maintained in the years that followed that he had no doubt Morris was guilty of killing Christine.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

AFTER this week's suggestion of a super-city to be called Greater Birmingham, there was outrage further west and even a demand for it to be called Greater Black Country. The only fair way forward is to find the exact centre of the proposed city and take that as the name. After much measuring on the map I have it. Greater Pleck.

SHERYL Sandberg, the Facebook chief executive and Anna Maria Chavez, the head of American Girl Scouts, are heading a campaign to ban the word "bossy" on the grounds that being called bossy undermines the confidence of girls. What a pair of bossyboots.

IN LIFE, unspeakable. In death, unimpeachable. A shame some of the nice things said about Bob Crow since his death were not said before. Two things made me like him. Firstly, I always admire people who speak up for others. Secondly, I never use the Tube.

ED Miliband says a Labour government would not hold a referendum on membership of the EU unless Britain is asked to transfer more powers to Brussels. Imagine the fun the lawyers could have defining "powers," "asked," "transfer" and "to Brussels." What Miliband really means is that the British people will never be allowed to pull out. Which, to be fair, is much the same as David Cameron means. The net result of Cameron and Miliband's EU dithering will be a landslide for UKip in the EU elections in May. It's that opportunity we humble voters get every five years to thumb our noses at the big political parties with that wonderful line from Romeo and Juliet: a plague on both your houses.

HOW could the crisis-hit Co-Op Bank, having discovered a £1.5 billion black hole in its accounts, even consider awarding its new (and now resigned) boss a £3.6 million package? Simple. All it requires is an understanding of bankonomics, a black art which should not be confused with economics or anything resembling sound budgeting. Bankonomics dictates that when a bank makes a huge profit it clearly has to reward its senior staff, so it's massive bonuses all round. Bankonomics also dictates that when a bank makes a huge loss, it clearly has to attract better staff. So it's massive bonuses all round.

HAROLD Macmillan was once asked by a journalist what he most feared in politics and replied: "Events, dear boy, events." Events certainly overtook Evan Davis's programmes, Mind the Gap (BBC2), examining the gulf between London and the rest of Britain. No study of London is complete without mentioning the curious fact that the massive influx of the global super-rich now influences UK foreign policy. How could Britain seriously intervene in Vladimir Putin's Crimean adventure when Vlad's pals might respond by taking themselves and their billions out of London, precipitating the biggest property crash in history? Dollars and roubles, dear boy. Dollars and roubles.

I CAN understand some New Zealanders wanting to change their national flag on the grounds that it is too much like the Australian flag and, with its Union Jack, has echoes of colonialism. I can understand, too, the desire to replace it with the fern leaf, the proud symbol of New Zealand. But a fern leaf on a black background? Black is the colour of mourning and black flags are associated with pirates and Muslim extremists. The black flag with a fern leaf would be perfect for the Auckland branch of al Qaeda.

AT a trade fair in Hanover, David Cameron looks forward to a new industrial revolution when billions of everyday objects such as fridges will be able to "talk to each other" over the internet. That's right, Prime Minister. And at night the toys all come to life and dance around the nursery. Perhaps it's time for a nice lie-down . . .

Workplace wellbeing on agenda

A TEAM of Rugeley businesswomen have joined forces to help employers reduce absence costs and improve workplace health and wellbeing. Mpower Wellbeing Services are hosting a free launch and networking event in Stoke next Friday, March 28, to promote their services. Experts in employee health and wellbeing, they work closely with employers of all sizes and sectors.

Services include absence management, stop smoking and back care advice and health screening. Director Melaney Doyle said: "We provide a one stop shop for all organisations' health and wellness needs. "We believe that investing in a health and wellness strategy can reduce absence and stress, improve performance and promote engagement. Our launch event is an ideal opportunity to find out more about our services and learn about the business benefits of introducing employee assistance initiatives. "The free event takes place at M Club Health and Fitness, Festival Heights Retail Park, from 9.30am to 2pm. It will feature a series of short talks about introducing a wellness strategy, what organisations should look at and why, and the role coaching, development and occupational health should play. There will also be a chance to sample some of the therapies that can be delivered in workplaces. The event will support Staffordshire charity Arch. To book a place, email enquiries@mpowerwellbeing.co.uk or call Melaney on 07896 221817 or Kate on 07816 837966.

Chaos on the roads as lorry overturns

DRIVERS were caught up in hours of traffic chaos after a lorry overturned on a busy roundabout. The HGV ended up partially on the pavement after the accident on the island off the A4601 Wolverhampton Road, Cannock. It happened at the junction with the A460 near Wedges Mills at around 1.30pm last Thursday (March 12). The driver was taken to Stafford Hospital with minor injuries. One lane was initially closed approaching the roundabout from Wolverhampton Road. However, a crane was called as part of the recovery process which led to more than four hours of congestion.

It caused a heavy build up of traffic towards the island, near the Middle Hill junction for the M6 Toll Road. There was also long hold-ups for motorists towards junction 11 of the M6 and for vehicles heading towards Cannock. The damaged driver's cab was cleared by 5.30pm as the Wolverhampton Road was blocked off near to Watling Street. It meant cars and lorries were unable to travel in the direction of the island which at the junction with the A460.

Wage rise is given backing

BUSINESS chiefs have welcomed an increase in the national minimum wage. The hourly rate will go up by 19p to £6.50. Cannock Chase Chamber of commerce director Chris Plant said: "Businesses agree that the minimum wage must rise. "In recent polling, 60 per cent of chamber members recommended an increase in line with inflation, and 14 per cent favoured an above-inflation increase. "The challenge now for ministers is to work with business to raise productivity and skills."

Magistrate's talk

DENZIL Smith will address a meeting of Cheslyn Hay & District Local History Society next week. His talk, 'My Life As a Magistrate' takes place at the Salem, in High Street, on Thursday, March 27, from 7.30pm. Admission is £1 with refreshments.

Boxers in court over town centre assault

TWO boxers have appeared in court in connection with a serious assault on a 20-year-old man in a town centre that left him with severe head injuries.

Alistair Douglas and James Robb both faced a charge of intent to cause grievous bodily harm to Joshua Morgan when they appeared at Cannock Magistrates Court last week.

The court was told the pair are both boxers and train at Great Wyrley Boxing Club.

Mr Morgan is still in a critical condition in hospital after the attack. It happened in Cannock town centre in the early hours of Sunday, March 9.

Police cordoned off an area of Backcroft, at the back of Poundland, after paramedics were called to the scene at around 2.05am.

Douglas, aged 24 and Robb, 21, gave no pleas when they appeared at court.

Denied

Miss Maggie Meakin, prosecuting, told the court that the victim remained at the University Hospital of North Staffordshire in Stoke.

Douglas, of Longford Road, and Robb, of Langdale Green, both Cannock, were both denied bail.

The magistrates committed the case to Stafford Crown Court where they will next appear on Monday, March 31. Miss Meakin said the defendants were boxers and trained at Great Wyrley Boxing Club.

by Laura Blyth

A full forensic investigation of the scene in Cannock took place and CCTV evidence is still being scoured by detectives.

Mr Morgan's family is thought to run vintage interiors shop A Little Bit of Blighty in Mill Street.

Proprietor Clare Simpson wrote on her business Facebook page: "Some of you may be heard about a young man being attacked in Cannock and left in a critical condition. That man was my baby.

"At present I am not going to move from his side so please be patient with us.

"I will however find cover for the shop but for the next few days I will not be answering any messages. I hope you all understand and thank you for your support."

Two other men were arrested in connection with the attack and have been bailed by police.

Parishioners help hungry

PARISHIONERS in Cannock are not just giving something up for Lent – they are clubbing together to feed some of the hungriest people around the world.

To raise money for Catholic aid agency CAFOD's 'Dig Deep' campaign, Cannock parishioners held special collections in church last weekend. They hoped to surpass the total from the equivalent time last year, when £1,139 was raised.

CAFOD's manager for Cannock, Helen Moseley, said: "The money that grows from these events will help transform the lives of people living in poverty."

Stephen wins top citizen title

Stephen receives his certification from town council chairman Ron Bradbury

AN INSPIRATIONAL Burntwood teenager has been named Young Citizen of the Year.

Stephen Sutton, who has terminal cancer, was presented with the award by council chairman Ron Bradbury at a town council meeting last week.

A former Chase Terrace Technology College student, Stephen is striving to raise as much money as he can for the Teenage Cancer Trust. He had originally hoped to raise around £10,000 but has actually brought in more than £160,000 for the cause.

The citation on his certificate reads: "Presented to Stephen Sutton in recognition of his tremendous courage and for being a magnificent ambassador for Burntwood, both as a person, and for his amazing effort to raise so much for the Teenage Cancer Trust."

Stephen's efforts have also earned him extra recognition over the past 12 months. His school named an annual award in his honour and he was handed a Halifax Giving Extra award for unsung heroes.

Group set for spring roles in new play

PERFORMERS will take the stage for a fun production at Rugeley's Rose Theatre next month.

The Tower Players present Spring Roles on April 9, 10 and 12 at the Taylors Lane venue.

The four-part begins with Reunion, a comedy drama observing five old classmates as they endure the tedium of a school reunion which gradually descends into an alcohol and drug-fuelled evening of desperate flirting, self-loathing and awkward recrimination.

Two self-penned offerings, Side by Side – a short play about the joys, or otherwise, of motoring with your spouse – and How Mobiles Changed the World – taking the audience back to more simpler times – will follow.

The final item A Fish in Her Kettle will be performed by Tower Players' alter ego, Sir Andrew Lloyd Webbed Feet's Really Useless Group. Despite efforts to perform this French farce, they are repeatedly hamstrung by failing scenery, absent cast members, forgotten lines and missing door handles.

This performance is not suitable for the under-16s. Shows starts at 7.30pm and all tickets are £7 from box-office@towerplayers.co.uk or telephone 07825 775705.

Charity makes plea for help

A LEADING pet charity is appealing for donations to its newest store in Heath Hayes.

The Blue Cross charity shop at the Hawks Green District Centre is also looking for volunteers.

Shop manager Chris Pollard said: "We are always in need of new stock to sell. We also hope to see lots of support with new volunteers joining our team."

Money raised helps animals cared for at Blue Cross rehoming centres and hospitals across the UK.

To help, call Chris on 01543 275664.

Library birthday

A COFFEE morning will mark the 50th anniversary of Hedgesford library on April 17. It runs from 10am to noon in Market Street. There will be a memorabilia display, coffee and cake will be served and there will be a chance for people to write down their memories.

Campaigners describe HS2 as a vote loser

Transport Minister Patrick McLoughlin

CAMPAIGNERS say supporting HS2 would be a 'vote loser' after transport secretary Patrick McLoughlin indicated the controversial rail link is not likely to complete its passage through Parliament before next year's general election.

Failure to get the HS2 Bill onto the statute book by the time of the May 2015 poll could make it a contentious election issue between the parties, particularly in constituencies along the route of the proposed line.

Questions were asked about Labour's commitment after shadow chancellor Ed Balls said there would be 'no blank cheque' for HS2, though Ed Miliband has since reaffirmed his backing for the scheme.

Mr McLoughlin, a former Cannock miner and councillor, said: "I think one has to accept that perhaps through all its stages within the next 12 months is slightly ambitious."

The Stop HS2 group said that MPs would realise that backing the project would lose them votes.

Campaign manager Joe Rukin said: "Finally there is an acceptance from Government that the chance of getting the HS2 bill through before the next election are zero, and have always been. It has finally been admitted that HS2 will be an issue at the next general election, and politicians trying to justify the ridiculous levels of spending on HS2 will find that voters will not buy the spin and vote accordingly. It is clearly a vote loser, and those pushing it will lose votes."

Penny Gaines, chairman of Stop HS2 said: "Patrick McLoughlin has finally said publicly what the Government has known for some time - that they have no chance of getting the HS2 Hybrid Bill passed before the next general election. It's becoming an electoral millstone."

Questions over road from coroner after death crash

A CORONER is to ask the Highways Authority to look at a stretch of road in Rugeley where a driver was killed when his car hit a tree.

Daniel Taylor, of McKie Way, Brereton, died as the result of a road traffic accident, ruled South Staffordshire coroner Andrew Haigh.

An inquest heard the 29-year-old had been driving a Vauxhall Astra hire car with passenger Lorna Mason, when it spun out of control and hit a tree in Colliery Road, Brereton.

Teenage girl hurt in fall from horse

A TEENAGER was taken to hospital after falling from her horse in Penkridge.

The girl, thought to be 16, was riding at an equestrian centre when she suffered a head injury in the fall at 12.05pm on Wednesday (March 12).

The ambulance service said the girl was treated at the scene and regained consciousness before being taken to hospital.

An ambulance, a community paramedic officer and a rapid response vehicle were sent to the scene.

West Midlands "On arrival at the scene, crews found a teenage girl who was unconscious after falling from a horse," ambulance service spokesman Suzie Pothergill said.

"The girl, believed to be approximately 16 years of age, regained consciousness and was treated for a head injury."

"The teenager was fully immobilised and conveyed to University Hospital of North Staffordshire for further assessment and treatment. The doctor travelled on board the ambulance."

It heard Mr Taylor had been dining at an Indian restaurant in Chadsmoor and was driving home to watch the football on September 6 last year.

Pc Roger Wetton from Staffordshire Police's collision investigation unit, said there was no evidence to suggest Mr Taylor had been speeding and there were no defects on the road. He said the surface may have been damp from the rain.

Investigating officer Pc David Burgham said Mr Taylor had been driving the car for 17 days but had held his licence for seven years.

Evidence

The inquest also heard Mr Taylor had seven points on his licence relating to speeding offences from 2012.

He added his passenger was unlikely to remember anything because she had severe head injuries.

There was no evidence Mr Taylor was using a mobile phone and nothing to suggest he was distracted.

Five people, including two off-duty nurses, stopped to help Mr Taylor and tried to resuscitate him.

Mr Haigh said he intended to write to the highways authority to check whether the current safety measures including signs on the road were appropriate.

Charity has Happy Mondays in mind

Volunteers Helen Pickering, Carol Bacon, Karen Dovey, manager Kimberley Hounsoms, Abigail Carter, and Shelley Busby

GAMES, cake sales and tombolas raised hundreds of pounds for a mental health charity during a fun day at one of its charity shops.

Volunteers at the Burntwood Mind Shop, at Sankeys Corner, took part in a Happy Monday event as part of a national fundraising initiative.

The charity encouraged people to hold events in their homes and workplaces to raise funds on the least popular day of the week.

The Burntwood event helped to raise more than £200. Shop manager Kimberley Hounsoms said: "We have around 11 volunteers and all came dressed in Mind's colour scheme – shades of blue, purple and yellow."

Raffle

"We had a tombola and cake stall. One of the volunteers brought in a Minion cake to raffle off. It has been really successful."

"It has been the first Happy Monday event for Mind but we have done fun days in the past. I think it's a really good idea to raise awareness."

The charity shop, which opened last August, is also appealing for donations and wants to hear from volunteers.

The charity provides advice and support to people experiencing a mental health problem. Mind also campaigns to improve services, raise awareness and promote understanding.

To get involved call Ms Hounsoms or assistant manager Shelley Busby on 01543 898082.

FIREFIGHTERS battled to stop a blaze spreading to a house after it broke out in a garage in Rugeley.

IN MY VIEW

WITH MARK ANDREWS

THEY say one of the surest signs of getting older is when the policemen start looking younger. But what about when the police start looking smaller. Or made out of vinyl?

Over the last few months they seem to have been spreading like wildfire. PCSOs, community beat bobbies, it seems no shop is complete now without a self-adhesive law enforcer in the window.

We've all heard the unkind comments about 'plastic policemen', but really is taking it too far.

THE other week, while using a self-scanning till at a local branch of Tesco, a member of staff was required to verify that I was over the age of 18 while purchasing a six-pack of beer.

And what, you might ask, is wrong with that? Well the beer in question was alcohol-free. Why, even the old Top Deck shandy cans used to have a trace of alcohol in them, and I don't recall children being stopped from buying them. Even stranger is the warning on Beck's Blue, another low alcohol brew. "Please drink responsibly" it says on the label, which gives the alcohol content as being 0.05 per cent. And quite right too. Do not even consider getting driving a car after 200 bottles.

NOEL Edmonds, unveiling his proposal to privatise the BBC, says he no longer buys a television licence because there is nothing on the normal terrestrial services he wants to watch. "I don't watch except on catch-up," he says. And quite right too. So how does he feel about all those years he was forcing Mr Blobby and Telly Addicts on us?

FIREFIGHTERS were this week called to deal with a fire at a suspected cannabis factory in Tettenhall, emitting huge plumes of smoke into the atmosphere. A man was arrested, but neighbours are said to be relaxed about the matter. Very relaxed indeed.

JUST when you think you have heard everything, Aaron Parfitt, 14, has been suspended from his school in Blackpool for organising a walk-out because he felt he was not getting enough homework. He complained he was passed from pillar to post when he tried to raise concerns about the quality of his teaching with Blackpool Council and Ofsted. He managed to persuade 100 of his peers to join him on his protest. I know teenagers will do anything for a day off school, but demanding more homework? The news comes a week after fellow Blackpool resident Gemma Worrall hit the headlines because she thought 'barracco banner' was Britain's head of state. They must have some really good schools up there.

Curator David Symons looks at a discovered item

The whole hoard is brought together for the first time

Haul together to clear up mystery

A fascinating discovery of ancient treasure has taken on another new twist, as DAVE BALLINGER reports

SOME of the mysteries of the Staffordshire Hoard – unearthed in a farmer's field in Hammerwich – have taken a new twist.

The incredible find, the biggest of its kind, has begun to rewrite the history books.

The entire, fully cleaned hoard has been photographed in one place for the first time since its discovery in 2009.

For two weeks the entire 4,000 piece collection has been brought together so experts could start a major exercise to group items and make links between each fragment like an ancient jigsaw puzzle.

The staggering findings shine fresh light into the depths of what are known as the Dark Ages.

Hundreds of connections have been found, revealing at least one helmet made up of more than 1,500 fragments.

Warrior

The research has also confirmed there are up to 150 swords, which represents an extraordinary haul of warrior kit.

It has also revealed for the first time the true extent of gold wealth across the kingdoms – much greater than ever envisaged before.

Anglo-Saxon specialist Chris Fern has spent 18 months examining each item in the collection individually. But to complete his analysis it became clear all the items would have to be brought together. So they were all packed up and in total secrecy experts carried out the work over two weeks in the depths of Birmingham Museum and Art Gallery.

Mr Fern said: "The hoard is a very

Conservation manager Pieta Greaves examines some of the artefacts complex find which points to multiple origins and is very significant for understanding the true material culture of the early kingdoms of Anglo-Saxon England.

"It suggests that the warrior elites shared in the sort of gold wealth enjoyed by kings and royalty."

Mr Fern said items in the hoard were shown to have origins from three kingdoms: Mercia, East Anglia and Northumbria.

The items span up to 150 years over the turn of the 6th and 7th centuries made up of 11lbs (5kg) of gold, 3lbs (1.3kg) of silver, plus garnet and Roman glass. It has a value in excess of £3 million.

Now the three-year conservation and clean-up is complete, the full extent of decoration, quality, iconography and workmanship has been appreciated.

Among the collection are more than 80 pommel caps – the decorative tip of the sword – where previously only 20 had been discovered in England.

David Symons, curator at Birmingham Museum, said: "We had no idea of the level of wealth. It now appears it was beyond kings and top royalty. More people are sharing in this. It also includes the top generals and high officials."

"It has also helped us understand the technology and techniques used. The hoard makes up something like 60 per cent of all Anglo-Saxon filigree discovered. This is unique. It is mind-boggling."

It is already believed some of the garnet discovered could have come from India and Sri Lanka.

There is also a gold pectoral cross with a central garnet gem that would have been worn by senior clergy as a sign of their office or by wealthy Christian lay people.

And there is the stylised seahorse mount with filigree spirals the size of a grain of rice which now experts believe may actually be just a horse.

Thumb

Pieta Greaves, hoard conservation manager, said: "Overall I like the pieces where you can see the human element, such as the wear on the pommel caps where you would have put your thumb."

The hoard was discovered by detectorist Terry Herbert in farmer Fred Johnson's field on July 5 2009.

It made them millionaires overnight when Birmingham Museums Trust and The Potteries Museum and Art Gallery in Stoke-on-Trent acquired it in 2010 with support from the Arts Fund, the National Heritage Memorial Fund and the UK's largest public donation.

In 2012 a further 81 items were found in the same field. Dating of the hoard places it at the time of the huge tribal Kingdom of Mercia.

Since the discovery the treasures have toured the region and more than a million people have visited.

Mr Symons said: "It has been an incredible strength of the project that it has been out on show. We are still part way through the story and have a lot of thinking to do."

THROUGH THE YEARS

FIFTY patients, many attached to life support machines, were evacuated from Wolverhampton's Royal Hospital as a blazing roof threatened to engulf the entire top floor.

A HIGH Court judge ordered the miners' union to call off flying pickets from travelling to pits which continued to operate during the strike. Mr Justice Nolan granted the National Coal Board an injunction under the controversial Employment Act

GERRY Adams, the Sinn Fein MP for West Belfast, was gunned down in his car during a lunch break from a court case he was involved in. He was taken to Royal Victoria Hospital in Belfast after being shot in the city.

CHART toppers Chaka Demus and Pliers appeared in Wolverhampton for the first time, but didn't get quite the reaction they had been hoping for. Angry fans threatened to walk out as they became tired of waiting for the band. The concert started at 7.30pm, but the group did not take to the stage until 10pm.

KIDNEY patients from Wolverhampton were flying to India for transplants because of a shortage of organs in Britain. Five people from the town had paid around £2,500 for the operations in Bombay clinics. The donors, from India's poorer classes, were risking their lives for as little as £200, it was claimed.

A FRUIT and veg seller who fought a three-year battle for the right to sell in pounds and ounces died from a suspected heart attack at the age of 39. Steven Thoburn, from Sunderland, had been prosecuted for breaching the Weights and Measures Act by selling bananas by the pound. His Imperial scales were confiscated and he was given a six-month conditional discharge in 2001.

BUS lay-bys were being removed from a busy main road, sparking concerns the move would lead to an increase in congestion. The lay-bys were being blocked up as part of a £1.7m Red Route scheme along Stafford Road in Wolverhampton. Transport chiefs claimed that it would be safer for buses to stop on the main carriageway rather than pulling into lay-bys.

ASTON Villa ruthlessly despatched their Premiership neighbours Wolves with a 4-0 win in the big West Midlands derby. Thomas Hitzlsperger opened the scoring after just seven minutes. There was a brief chance for Wolves to get back into the game on the stroke of half-time but Thomas Sorensen saved a penalty from Vio Ganea.

Food for thought by mothers in protest

Emily Slough and daughter Matilda are supported by other mothers in a protest in Rugeley town centre

HUNDREDS joined in a protest after a Rugeley mother was branded a 'tramp' for breastfeeding her daughter in public.

Emily Slough was secretly photographed by a member of the public as she fed eight-month-old daughter Matilda. The image was posted on Facebook and Mrs Slough labelled a 'tramp'.

She said she never imagined the reaction the online jibe would provoke.

Mothers from across the country joined her to take part in a mass breastfeed protest in Rugeley on Saturday. Dozens breastfed their children by restaurant steps in Market Street.

At least 300 people gathered, some wearing pink ribbons and T-shirts reading: 'Rugeley Mass Feed 2014. Free to Feed.'

Pink balloons were tied to street lamps and the crowds there waved banners and chanted.

Mrs Slough, aged 27, from Rugeley, said she was overwhelmed by the turnout. She said: "It's amazing. I didn't think we'd have this many."

"We are just trying to raise awareness. The person who took that photograph thought it was OK to try and shame a lady out feeding her baby."

"If mums are uncomfortable we want to show that the majority of people out there are OK with it and encourage you to do it."

Sam Kirtan, 33, of Red Lion Avenue, Norton Canes, was feeding her 10-week old daughter Farah at the event. She said: "I really just want to show support."

"I can't honestly say I've had any negative comments; it's more the looks. You can tell people don't like it. I just think, 'grow up'. At the end of the day it's a baby having food."

It's such a shame he has to go

THROUGH your letters page I would like to publicly thank our MP Aidan Burley for giving myself and my family the opportunity to travel to London on one of his organised tours of the Houses of Parliament.

We had a very enjoyable day and the tour of Parliament was very interesting. Mr Burley is working so hard for Cannock Chase for many reasons

It is such a great shame that a certain national newspaper has chosen to hound him so much over one stupid mistake.

I am so annoyed over the pressure which has been put on Mr Burley that he has felt he had no option but to stand down at the next General Election in 2015, which was his own choice.

Mr Burley is not a bad person. His heart is in the right place when it comes to Cannock Chase and its residents. It is such a pity he has to go.

Young people deserve much better

I AM very concerned about the county council's plans for the future of Youth Services.

It seems that they have reached their decisions on the basis of spurious, very limited research and consultation. The proposed cuts of services will surely risk their being unable to meet their statutory obligations when the existing level of service can hardly be described as being generously resourced.

This removal of services displays a lack of interest in preparing future citizens to become better members of society. Do they really care about the future? How do they know what young people want or need?

If youth centres are closed, how and where should young people go to meet positive role models and enjoy new and challenging experiences?

What about the impact on not only young people but the wider community when there is no youth provision and greater numbers gather in streets and near shops with the potential for greater conflict of interest between the generations?

I do not believe that these proposals have been thought through properly.

Insufficient thought has been given to the negative consequences in a misguided attack on yet another area of public service.

Our young people deserve much better!

Upset over offensive comment

GRAHAME Wiggin (Letters, March 6) refers to a backlog of answers to letters from constituents in Aidan Burley's office and he assumes this will get worse now that he has announced he is standing down.

Exactly what backlog of letters does he mean? There is no backlog of letters in the office and never has been. This service to constituents will continue until Parliament is dissolved and Aidan is no longer the MP.

Mr Wiggin's casual remark is a groundless slur on our proud record of helping thousands of constituents a year, saying we are not doing our job properly. Let me assure him we are! I for one am very upset by his offensive comment and feel that I must use your column to put him straight.

I remember a piece of advice Mr Wiggin may do well to heed - "If you have nothing to say, say nothing!"

Call for courtesy sign over car boot venue

I FEEL I must write to have a little moan about the organisation of the Cocksparrow Lane car boot sale. A sign informed us one Saturday that the sale was going to be on the next day, but when we got there on the Sunday - there was no car boot sale. We drove six or eight miles along the Stafford Road - and it was not there either. On our return journey we found it on at the Littleton School.

Is a courtesy sign telling us if it's on and/or where it is too much to ask?

Backlog claims are without foundation

I FEEL I must immediately put right the nasty, ill-judged and completely false claims made on your March 6 letters page by Mr Wiggin, a self-styled UKIP activist.

He suggested that following my announcement not to stand at the next election that the "backlog of answers to letters from his constituents will mount up even more".

What backlog? Which letters? There is, and never has been, any backlog.

How dare he pass comment about the operation of my office, when he knows nothing of it.

By making such unfounded accusations, he is not attacking me, but criticising my staff. They have recently helped the 3,000th customer to my Help Zone, and I am extremely proud of what they have achieved and the incredible service they give to local people.

His defamatory claims are without foundation, insulting, and should not have been printed.

Why so long to help?

WHILE politicians are now patting themselves on the back, after their two days of finger pointing and blame passing one has to ask why did it take so long to get help to these poor people who are deluged in flood water and sewage?

How long, I wonder, would it have taken them, to send foreign aid to India and/or Pakistan or wherever, had these floods been over there?

Charity game to ensure boy's memory lives on

A CHARITY match has been set up in memory of a talented footballer who tragically died on his 13th birthday.

Thomas Smith of Hednesford was nicknamed 'Ronnie' after Cristiano Ronaldo because of his skills on the pitch.

The Kingsmead Technology College pupil's death last May left family and friends, including his team mates, devastated.

A tribute fund was set up in his name and now his former football coach Tony Hardwick has organised a charity match in his memory.

The game will raise money for the Thomas Smith Tribute Fund which was set up in Thomas's name as part of charity Meningitis Now.

The youngster's team Chasetown Scholars under-14s are to take on their counterparts from Walsall FC at the Scholars ground home of Chasetown FC on Saturday, March 29.

Auction

Hundreds of people are expected to attend the match with a football memorabilia auction also taking place. Five hundred tickets have been printed with admission also available on the day.

Mr Hardwick said: "Tom was a fantastic kid - he was happy go-lucky and full of joy and never any trouble."

"We want this event to be all about Tom. Every penny that is raised will go towards Meningitis research and work. We want it to be a fun-filled day and there will be plenty going on."

"Last year was a hard year. Everybody was distraught when Tom died. We now want to do our bit in memory of him."

A host of memorabilia from professional football clubs will be going under the hammer.

Thomas Smith who died of meningitis at the age of 13

Tony Hardwick who is organising the match in memory of Thomas Smith

Aston Villa fan Thomas was a popular schoolboy and died while on holiday in Wales with his family.

Mr Hardwick hopes the fixture will become an annual event. Chasetown FC will also name a trophy after Thomas. It will be presented annually with Thomas's parents Andy and Emma choosing what it will be in aid of.

Mr Smith said: "This is all about keeping Thomas's memory alive and raising awareness of meningitis. We won't let him be forgotten."

The gates will open at 12pm on the day with kick-off at 2pm. Tickets are £2 in advance or £3 on the gate. Call 07966365992.

Cloudy2Clear Windows - Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done."

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Gridiron friends in call-up for country

Alistair Willcox, left and Leo Chuck, who were called up to play for Great Britain under-19s at American football

TWO teenaged pals are flying high in American football. Alistair Willcox from Rugeley and Leo Chuck, of Bloxwich, were picked to play for the Great Britain under-19 team and came away with victory from their first game.

The pair went through a gruelling selection process including multiple trials and a selection camp before making the national team.

Leo and Alistair, a former pupil at Hagley Park Sports College, both played rugby for Lichfield, starting as under-10s and progressing to the adult game. They developed an interest in American football and play for Tamworth Phoenix.

In their first national game at the Gateshead Stadium in Newcastle against The Netherlands under-19s, Great Britain Lions ran out 28-14 winners.

"It's a great honour to be picked for the Great Britain team and we hope to progress further in the game," said Alistair, 19, who now studies broadcast journalism at Nottingham Trent University.

Leo, also 19, works for Rugeley-based Kribensis Leisure Contracts, a specialist hotel, restaurant and bar construction company.

Roadworks phase set for April finish date

THE first phase of a revamp of roads around Rugeley town centre is set to be completed next month.

A new roundabout will open around the railway arches at the entrance to the town as part of a major investment project.

Work has involved removing a junction controlled by traffic lights on Armitage Road to improve traffic flow as well as improving footpaths and kerbs.

by Adam Burling

Bosses said they hope to have it finished at some point in April.

They will then launch the next phase of the scheme which will involve reducing Horse Fair to a single lane carriageway and replacing the signal junction at St Paul's Road with a roundabout.

Planting

In addition, a cycle path will be installed between Wharf Road and the Globe Island, new crossings and parking bays installed and other improvements taking place including tree planting and landscaping.

The whole £600,000 project is due to be completed by July. In April, further improvement works in the town will start in partnership with Cannock Chase Council. These include resurfacing of the car park off Brookside, improving pavements and crossing areas along Brookside and Forge Road and installing a new cycle and footpath between Forge Road and Leathermill Lane.

This work is being funded by the Tesco development and should be completed by August.

Simon Tagg, Staffordshire County Council's cabinet support member for transport, said: "It is encouraging to see the improvement works in Rugeley really taking shape."

TV Repo Man escapes jail over graffiti crime

A STAR of TV's Repo Man hired to daub a couple's Cannock home with 'appalling' graffiti has narrowly escaped going straight to jail.

Heavyweight boxer Reece 'Rampage' Jones plastered the victim's £250,000 house with false allegations using a sticky material that would not wash off easily.

Stafford crown court heard that Mr Kenneth Mair and wife Jayne had been the victim of an ongoing vendetta.

The attack on their home in Heath Hayes, took place on April 24 last year. Mr Nick Burn, prosecuting, said there was 'no substance whatsoever' to the words painted on the house, but 'it fits in with a sustained campaign of harassment'.

Someone else was also involved but Jones refused to divulge their identity.

Daylight

Jones, aged 26, admitted criminal damage and was given 16 months jail suspended for two years, ordered to do 150 hours unpaid community work and to pay the victim £400 compensation, plus £600 costs.

Recorder Miss Rachel Brand QC said: "Someone else used you, now you are here on your own to pay the penalty for it."

"What you did was appalling, creeping up in the dead of night, daubing insults in a sticky material difficult to remove, which came daylight would have been seen by anyone passing by."

"You had no grievance with this man, in effect being paid to do it. You were told the debt of £1,000 you owed would be wiped out."

The judge also imposed a restraining order banning Jones, of Davies Drive, Uttoxeter, from contacting the victims or going near their home.

Reece Jones is a well-known boxer who was on Channel 4's Repo Man

Mr Burn said: "This particular incident is extremely unpleasant. There was a degree of planning and premeditation involved."

Mr Rashad Mohammed, defending, told the court it was clear the victim had difficulties with his neighbours. "This defendant has no grievance with him, he had no knowledge of those ongoing problems," he said. Jones, who has a partner and young child, was a boxer who did voluntary work teaching youngsters to box, said Mr Mohammed.

He is one of the stars of TV's Repo Man, which follows a group of men as they recover items on behalf of finance companies.

A gruelling walk ahead for Richard

LICHFIELD ROTARY

RICHARD Davis, soon to be one of the club's new associate members, has offered to undertake the gruelling 4 Inns Walk over 45 miles of the northern Peak District.

He will attempt the walk, which needs to be completed in 24 hours, on April 5 and will attract sponsorship for the Rotary Club who have decided to donate the funds raised to the Donna Louise Children's Hospice Trust.

The 4 Inns are the Isle of Skye near Holmbridge, the Snake Pass Inn, the Nags Head at Edale and the Cat and Fiddle near Buxton. It is a 6.05am start for Richard who will join 400 other walkers on the annual trek.

Organised by the Scouts Association, there is no overnight camp but entrants must be equipped to bivouac if conditions are severe enough to warrant it.

Last month Rotarian Simon James was enrolled as a member of the Worshipful Company of Smiths at a ceremony held in the Guildhall, Lichfield.

Historically he will join in a long company of smiths, goldsmiths, cardmakers and ironmongers, pewterers and braziers, plumbers, cutlers, nailors and spurriers, all skilled artisans when the Guild was formed in 1387.

The description of a smith has changed extensively since those early days and now embraces a wide cross-section of craftsmen.

More recently, it has been the practice to enrol one member each year as an Honorary Smith in recognition of services given to the city.

LAPLEY TREFOIL GUILD

HAVE you got what it takes to be a Pink Lady? That was the question put to ladies at their last meeting and it was met with a resounding YES!

Members donned 50s clothes for a sing-along performance of Grease the movie.

The evening, organised by Denise and Marilynne, began with a warm up session which included instructions on how to use items provided in goody bags.

Once the movie commenced, members let their inhibitions go as Pink Lady 'wannabes' reached the high notes. Everyone watched the movie and sang along to the lyrics on the screen remembering when to dance, hand jive and perform appropriate actions with items included in the goody bags.

This included sitting with the bag on their heads during 'Beauty School Drop Out'.

Afterwards a quiz about the movie was handed round for members to complete.

A prize was given to the most observant team which was won by Meena and Diane. The prize for hand jiving, a rather striking pair of pink gloves, went to Ada.

Race night a sell-out success

CANNOCK LIONS

CANNOCK Lions Club have had a brilliant couple of months. After their sell-out Burns Night, Sainsbury's invited the club to do a bag pack to raise funds.

The annual race night at the Heath Hayes Constitutional Club was another sell-out and tickets are being reserved for the next year's already.

More than £1,500 was raised by these events and donations have been made to Sightsavers. Along with Lichfield, Stafford, Tamworth and Burntwood Lions clubs tickets were sold for a Black Country Night where Dandy entertained with proceeds to go to the Spring Fling party - an event for the Young Carers of the local area.

Cannock Lions next event is Schools In Harmony at the Prince of Wales Centre.

One of the pictures showing the destruction which will be on display at the library

The Daily Sketch article with pictures of the victims

Amateur historian Derek Nicholls who has put together the Zeppelins exhibition

A Zeppelin bomb crater in Walsall in 1916

L21 Zeppelins were used to bomb the Black Country

Devastating night of the Zeppelins that left its mark on Black Country

IT WAS just a normal night in the Black Country, or as normal as any night was during the dark days of the First World War.

The trams clattered through the streets, folk flocked to the cinemas. The lights were ablaze as people went about their business as usual.

Then the Zeppelins came. Dozens were killed as bomb after bomb pounded down on Tipton, Wednesbury, Bilston and Walsall. Buildings were ripped apart as death rained down from the skies. A devastated husband returned from the pictures to find three generations of his family had perished in the carnage. The Black Country had never seen anything like it.

Amateur historian Derrick Nicholls has spent 18 months researching the devastating raids of 98 years ago, putting together an exhibition at Tipton Library.

Among the artefacts Mr Nicholls, a 71-year-old retired newsagent, has gathered together, is a police notice advising the public what to do in the event of an air raid. It suggests keeping a bucket of sand or water to hand in the upstairs bedrooms, in order to tackle any small fires that may break out.

"All windows and doors on the lower floor should be closed to prevent the admission of noxious gases," added police commissioner Mr E R Henry.

Destruction came to the Black Country on a foggy, frosty night on January 31, 1916, when a fleet of German Zeppelin airships were making their way to attack Liverpool.

But in the misty conditions and heavy clouds, two of nine aircraft – the L21 and L19 – became lost over the Midlands. Zeppelin L21 was commanded by 45-year-old Kapitänleutnant Max Dietrich. He had thought he was flying over the Irish Sea but had been mistaken by sparsely populated areas of countryside. On his orders, the crew of 16 dropped their deadly payload from the skies on an unsuspecting public largely unaware of their imminent fate. Bombs were initially believed to have hit Union Street in Tipton, with around five of the devices falling all around.

One also fell outside Tipton railway station and more around Barnfield Road trading estate. In Union Street, two houses were demolished and others damaged, the gas main was set alight. In all 14 people were killed in the town as the bombs struck at around 8 o'clock that night.

News reports at the time were subject to military censorship, and the Express & Star was only allowed to describe the Black Country raids as being in Staffordshire.

An inquest was held jointly for 13 of the victims of the Tipton bombing on February 3. The 14th victim Louisa York, who worked as a nurse, had been taken for treatment at Dudley Guest Hospital and her inquest was held elsewhere. The ruling from the inquest on the death certificates states 'Wilful murder against the Kaiser of Germany and his son the Crown Prince as being accessory to and after the fact' at the insistence of the inquest jury. A young couple, Maud and William Fellows, who were unmarried but had the same name, were killed after one bomb hit as they walked along a canal tow-path in nearby Bradley.

Their death is commemorated by a plaque on the wall of the Bradley pumping station.

Mr Nicholls, of Beverston Road, held an exhibition at Tipton Library, bringing together the images and stories through trawling the archives. At the time, the Express & Star reported that 26 people had been killed instantly during the night, but Mr Nicholls' research found the death toll was significantly higher. Mr Nicholls says a total of 33 people were killed.

Mr Nicholls is considering putting together a book of his research. The exhibition was put together to coincide with a community opera, Zeppelin Dreams at Wolverhampton's Grand today and tomorrow.

Benn artist pays tribute after politician's death

Great Wyrley artist Andrew Tift (right) with veteran Labour MP Tony Benn and the portrait he painted

AN artist who painted a portrait of veteran Labour MP Tony Benn has paid tribute to the former minister.

Andrew Tift's 6ft portrait of the parliamentarian, who died last week, aged 88, is one of the most popular that hangs in the House of Commons.

It was painted in 1998. Mr Tift has now joined the legions of people paying tribute to the veteran left winger.

When the former Tory MP Lord Cormack was chairman of Parliament's works of art committee he arranged for Mr Tift, then based in Great Wyrley but now living in Highgate, Walsall, to paint Mr Benn.

The image of him, in a chair, smoking a pipe is an iconic and enduring one of the man who would leave Parliament to 'devote more time to politics'.

Mr Tift, aged 45, met Mr Benn again last year to be interviewed by his son Hilary, a shadow cabinet minister, about the painting.

He said: "It's still one of my best ones and one of the ones that's most fondly remembered."

"Tony Benn has become such an important national figure. The one I get asked most about is this."

Genuine

Mr Tift, a father-of-one, revealed how the painting had taken four sittings and almost a year to produce.

“We went to his house in Notting Hill. It was almost a museum of socialism, full of knick-knacks, pictures and books.

"It was great to meet him. He was a national treasure. And he was always very nice to me. He wasn't the sort of person that would just be polite and give lip service, he was a genuine people person."

Last year Mr Benn said of his painting: "I have a great feeling of affection for it."

Son Hilary added: "It's like looking back at parts of my life."

A past winner of the BP Portrait Award Mr Tift has also painted the likes of former Labour leader Neil Kinnock and his wife Glenys and did one of the final portraits of comedian Eric Sykes before he died. His work has been displayed at London's National Portrait Gallery.

As the former South Staffordshire MP Patrick Cormack, the long-serving Tory Lord Cormack would never have agreed with the ideals of the pro-nationalisation Labour radical Mr Benn.

But he also paid tribute to him saying: "He was a colleague and I always enjoyed his impish sense of humour."

ZERO TO HERO BOXING GOES NATIONAL AND IS NOW COMING TO CANNOCK, RUGELEY AND SURROUNDING TOWNS.

Lee Matthews has now been given the license to run the training and shows with his team of supper fit instructors in the West Midlands.

Built on a vision of excellence Zero To Hero offers a show like no other. It's a goal-orientated fitness programme which inspires men from all walks of life to step up and challenge themselves in a way which they will never have experienced before. A gruelling 10-week training programme ensures they are fighting fit and ready for their fight night in front of over 2000 people at the Telford international centre on Saturday 19th July.

Contenders start their training on Monday 12th May at Fitness First, Cannock and Rugeley Martial Arts and Fitness Centre in Rugeley, Staffs at 8.30pm with Cannock Principal Coaches Tony Anderton and Dave Gwilt.

Contenders are trained mentally and physically through imaginative and boundary pushing sessions, such as a hostage training session in a disused prison, which put Contenders out of their comfort zone. Contenders' fitness, motivation and self-belief increases through their Zero To Hero journey that sequentially changes the lives of all participants. The tough but rewarding programme leads to lifelong friendships as bonds in red and blue camps are made, especially as night light draws closer and competition is rife. Contenders come from all walks of life with different motivations for being part of the programme but all with a shared goal - to become a HERO in front of their friends and families.

The best experience I have ever had, right up there with the birth of my kids
Joby Andrews' Season 2 Contender (39, Publican, Bristol)

On fight night contenders emerge from smoke and lights with entrance music of their choice to personalise the experience for them. Ring girls supporting each team cheer them on and get the crowd ready for the fight ahead. Every aspect of the event excels with table service and high quality food enhancing the experience further. This attention to detail in all aspects of the programme has attracted a lot of interest from potential Contenders from all over the country and has seen Zero To Hero expand to North Somerset, Bath, Hastings, Telford and Cannock in early 2014.

Brand Director, Carl Busby says We operate in such a unique space, we consider ourselves to be an experience/entertainment business. Other white collar boxing shows do not offer the level of training or final showdown that we do. All fights are show on Sky TV . There are still spaces left on the Cannock camp so please go to the website to register www.zerotheroboxing.com or email lee@zerotheroboxing.com or call 08003893987 or 07814415146 for more information.

Sam brushes up on the history of town

Sam Dunning holds his painting at the signal box with Lynn Evans and Councillor George Adamson

AN artist has committed to canvas the relocation of a piece of Hednesford history. Sam Dunning, aged 83, from Chads-moor, has captured the moving of the 'Hednesford - No 1' signal box to Hednesford Park.

Mr Dunning's painting will take pride of place in the signal box, which will be restored and transformed into a classroom for park community activities. The park's community and education officer, Lynn Evans, will also be based there.

Mr Dunning said: "I've used Hednesford Park since I was a boy and I'm very interested in our local history. I was a member of an art group in Heath Hayes for 20 years and I still enjoy painting. I'm so pleased that the painting will be displayed in the signal box."

Cannock Chase Council Leader Councillor George Adamson said: "The heritage of the park and the surrounding area has played a vital part in the improvement works that we are starting to carry out, and Mr Dunning will be talking to us now about his memories and stories of the park."

Anyone with stories or old photographs of the signal box can email hed-park@cannockchasedc.gov.uk or call 01543 462621.

HS2 boss in call for early start on project

THE HS2 route through the Midlands should be built six years earlier than planned, the project's new boss claims, while direct trains from the region to Europe face the axe.

HS2 Ltd chairman Sir David Higgins is calling on the government to bring forward work on the controversial high speed line which would see the 45-mile route through Staffordshire completed by 2027 instead of 2033.

By Rob Gollidge

The former Network Rail and Olympic boss also questions the need for a £700 million connection between HS2 and the Channel Tunnel Link.

Benefits

Sir David, who took up his £650,000 post in January, calls for the first phase to be extended to a hub station in Crewe and completed by 2027 to speed up benefits in the north.

He adds the link between HS2 and the Channel Tunnel is outweighed by the need for more connections between northern cities and says uncertainty over the time frame is the main threat to costs escalating.

He said: "HS2 is an enormous undertaking. If we do it right, it can be a catalyst for fundamental change at both a local and national level.

"It is ambitious because it needs to be, to meet the demands not just of the here and now, but of the future.

"That means being more ambitious about going further north, sooner. More ambitious about producing a coherent transport plan for the north as a whole.

"I firmly believe that HS2 is essential for the future of this country."

Stop HS2 campaign manager Joe Rukin said: "David Higgins has spent three months looking for cost savings. The only answer is to cancel the project and go back to the drawing board."

FOCUS ON PENKRIDGE

Pick up a bargain at market sale

PENKRIDGE Market will be holding its first ever spring sale this weekend.

Around 100 market stallholders will be selling everything from clothes, handbags and jewellery, to plants books and hardware on Saturday (March 22).

Telephones, digital radios, window and candles will also be on sale by up to 30 per cent.

Market manager Matt Williams said: "We have always wanted to do a sale at the market as it's the one thing we feel our stall holders miss out on when all the high street shops are promoting their sales."

Support

"Market prices are always very good but we realise that everyone loves a bargain and in these difficult times, most people want to save even more money, so we're hoping that everyone will come down and support the sale, so that we can make it into an annual event."

The market will run from 9am to 3pm. The hosts a Bank Holiday market and car boot sale, on Easter Monday, April 21. There is now a selection of new indoor units as well as an indoor market and hard standing area. For more details, call the market bosses on 01785 714221.

Planning inquiry to end dispute over caravan site

A PLANNING inquiry will be held over controversial proposals to build a gipsy caravan site in Penkridge after a dispute spanning years.

The plans for Wolverhampton Road will go before an inspector in June. The applicant William Lee wants to create six caravan pitches and two blocks on the site at New Acre Stables.

Mr Lee won permission to build a 20-caravan camp on land at Wolverhampton Road in 2011. But Penkridge parish council voiced its concerns in a letter to South Staffs District.

by Adam Burling

Since then the plans have been scaled back and a new application was made for permission to permanently use the site for caravans.

The inquiry will take place on June 10 at the district council offices in Cod-sall. The public will make representations before an inspector makes a ruling.

Parish councillor Bevan Craddock said: "Decisions have been made at a local level but it could be taken out of our hands now."

"We are obviously concerned and we hope that whatever decision is made is the right one."

Stafford MP Jeremy Lefroy has also previously objected to the plans.

Location

The bid was initially rejected after a High Court injunction had been served to prevent more caravans joining on to the site a year earlier. But the family appealed against the decision, triggering a three-day public inquiry.

Secretary of State Eric Pickles intervened because of the proposed size and location in the green belt. But the travellers won permission to temporarily site caravans there.

A quiz and hot potato

A MEN'S group quiz night will be held at a Penkridge church next week. St Michael's and All Angels Church in New Road, will host the event on Tuesday, March 25. The quiz starts at 7.30pm and the admission cost is £5 to include jacket potatoes.

Kennel Club praise for dog handler

A PENKRIDGE dog handler has been praised for her efforts with a Young Kennel Club award.

Victoria Wilkins, aged 22, was rewarded for a newspaper column she writes encouraging youngsters to share stories about their pooches and competing.

As well as her Paws For Youth column in Dog World, she received the Shaun McAlpine Outstanding Young Person Award for the 17-24 age group for a Facebook page she set up to help youngsters interested in dog handling to share stories and results.

Victoria, of Cherrybrook Drive, said: "I didn't expect to win because the other four people have done quite a lot. But we were all there for the same reason: we want to help young people."

She also won first place in the Large Münsterländer breed showing in the limit class at Crufts, held at the NEC.

Philip morphs into a marathon runner

Phillip Box from Burntwood who is running the London Marathon while dressed in a morph suit

BLUE is the colour for Philip Box as he runs the London Marathon. The 28-year-old, of Chasetown, a highways groundworker, is pounding the 26-miles of the capital in an all-encompassing morph suit.

A member of Shabba Runners in Bloxwich, Philip said: "It slows me down a bit because I reckon it halves your breathing capability and stops you being able to see when it gets wet – but it's fun.

"It takes the pressure away from the running and means you can do it for a laugh."

Phillip will compete in the London Marathon for the second time in April. Since taking part for the first time last year, he has also competed in the Snowdonian Marathon as well as a 40 mile ultra marathon.

He said: "I love running. It relaxes the mind and gives you time to think."

Despite the problems of wearing a morph suit, he still hopes to beat the 3 hours 28 minutes time he recorded last year.

He will be raising money for Children's Wish, a charity that makes dreams come true for children with life threatening illnesses. To sponsor him text morp61 £1 to 70070.

Fewer sick days taken by council employees

THE number of sick days taken by workers at Staffordshire County Council have fallen, new figures show.

Days lost through illness at the authority since December averaged 7.06 per employee compared with 7.2 in the second half of last year.

Nationally the figure stands at 8.6 days in the public sector and 7.7 in the private sector.

Bosses at the council – one of the biggest employers in the Midlands – attribute the fall in time off sick to a package of measures which they introduced two years ago.

They include a physiotherapy service for immediate assessment and treatment for workers.

Symptoms

Managers can refer an employee within 24 hours of staff calling in sick, so that physiotherapists can work on the problem within two days.

The initiative also gives workers the opportunity to request referrals at the first sign of any symptoms.

Before it was introduced, musculoskeletal problems were the cause of 30 per cent of all sick days. In 2012-13 there was a 15 per cent drop in the number of days lost to the complaint from 2011-12, equating to a saving of 4,800 days and almost £300,000.

In addition to the physiotherapy pilot, more than 1,000 managers received training and information on staff absence.

Deputy leader Ian Parry said the authority was pleased with the latest figures.

And he added: "It is a real success story that we have reached a position where our sickness average is below both public and private sector national figures."

Loving Burntwood... Loving Munchies

On the 10th August 2011, Munchies opened its doors in the newly refurbished premises previously known as The Ruby Restaurant creating a bright, warm and welcoming atmosphere for meeting up with old friends for coffee or sitting and enjoying a cooked breakfast or fulfilling lunch.

It is the intention of the owners to create a cafe providing good quality locally sourced products at affordable prices where customer satisfaction is high on the list of priorities.

There are so many choices. Eat in, take out or delivered? Hot or cold? Italian or filter coffee? White or brown, bread or baguettes? or maybe vegetarian or vegan? Whatever your choice, Munchies will endeavour to meet your requirement.

The breakfasts are all cooked to order using quality bacon and sausage, the homemade soups are made with pure fresh ingredients with no additives as are the lunchtime specials consisting of lasagne, chilli, spicy chicken curry and homemade cottage pie to mention a few.

This quality also exists in the presentation of the outside catering and buffets whether for a private occasion or business meeting.

Every patient is informed of the entire procedure right from the beginning and with the reassurance from the experienced dental staff within the practice, even the most apprehensive patient will feel at ease.

The Smile Centre Lichfield maintains the same ethos set out by the original Smile Centre in Manchester, where attention to detail remains the practice's priority. More than 10,000 patients have been treated in the past 25 years.

The Smile Centre aims to produce the finest natural looking dentures made from high quality materials in order to ensure patients leave satisfied with their new look. The Smile Centre offers a wide range of services including partial and complete dentures. Please note that partial dentures will require a prescription from a dental surgeon, this can be obtained from a patient's own dentist or in cases where discretion is required The Smile Centre will arrange this, painlessly, effortlessly and at no additional cost.

The excellent bespoke service will bring a smile to a patient's face

Matthew Burnell BSc Hons, Dip CDT RCS (Eng), has been working in dental technology since 1997 and qualified as a clinical dental technician in 2011. He is passionate about producing high quality dentures and uses the latest products and services as they become available. Due to the care and attention from The Smile Centre staff, the firm has successfully managed steady growth over 25 years of practice. The firm's reputation and popularity has now spread to and grown over the two years in Lichfield and the surrounding areas.

Providing care for terminally ill patients

Marie Curie Cancer Care is a UK charity dedicated to the care of people with terminal illnesses. In 2012-13 we cared for 38,777 people.

Marie Curie Nurses

We are best known for our network of 2,000 Marie Curie Nurses, who work in the homes of terminally ill patients across the UK, providing practical care and support. During 2012-13, our nurses provided more than 1.3 million hours of nursing to 30,080 patients, along with support for their families. Marie Curie Hospices provide expert care and the best quality of life for people with terminal illnesses. We are the biggest provider of hospice beds outside the NHS, and we are expanding outpatient and day services at all our hospices. Our hospices reached 7,897 people in 2012-13. There are Marie Curie Hospices in Belfast, Bradford, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Hampstead (London), Liverpool, Newcastle, Penarth (near Cardiff) and Solihull.
Our nine Marie Curie Hospices across the UK

Research

Marie Curie Cancer Care is a leader in research into the best ways of caring for people with terminal illnesses, and how care could be improved in future. We have our own research teams, and we fund external research programmes.

Campaigning for patients

We campaign for more patients to be able to be cared for and die in their place of choice. Research shows around 63 per cent of people would like to die at home if they had a terminal illness, with a sizeable minority opting for hospice care.

Our funding

All our services are always free to patients and their families, thanks to the generous support of the public. We fund our nursing services and hospices in 50/50 partnership with the NHS.

MOTHER'S DAY

Sunday 30th March

Loving owners sought as dogs look for home

A DOG rehoming charity is looking to match up four dogs with new owners.

Rugeley Dog Welfare is a volunteer-run organisation led by Ruth Dewis and Pauline Roberts who work to find loving homes for pooches.

Ruth and Pauline rehome dogs both directly and also in support of Swan Pit Animal Rescue in Gnosall.

To date the pair, who met while working at Armitage Shanks in Rugeley, have found new homes for more than 60 dogs.

All potential homes require a check of the property and a donation is also appreciated.

Dogs currently needing a new home include a Alfie a 22-month-old male labrador. He is presently living with another dog and is also fine with children. He is full of fun and energy, loves his walks and will walk at any speed.

Efforts

Then there is Molly, a four-year-old Yorkshire Terrier, who is looking for a new home as her owner is too ill to look after her.

Ruth and Pauline are also looking for a new home for two Jack Russells – a male and a female.

Ruth said: "In order to support the rehoming efforts we take part in as many fundraising efforts as possible including talks at local events, raffles, car boots and many more, and are also heavily reliant on donations from local dog lovers."

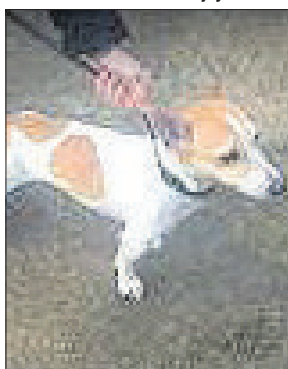

If you are interested you can call Pauline on 07971817877 and Ruth on 07900090993 or visit Facebook at www.facebook.com/rugeleydog-welfare

The Black Country UTC was just the job for me

Make the change for a dream career

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

BUDDING engineers or scientists could let their careers flourish by studying something they love at The Black Country University Technical College.

As a specialist school for students with a passion for science and engineering, UTC can offer a fresh start for 14-19-year-olds.

Training the next generation of scientists and engineers, in skills that are in demand by local employers, is crucial to the local economy and the UTC offers students a chance to flourish in a state-of-the-art learning environment.

Now prospective students can visit this exciting new school and find out why the UTC could be just the job. The doors will be thrown open on Wednesday, March 26 for an open day being held between 4-7pm.

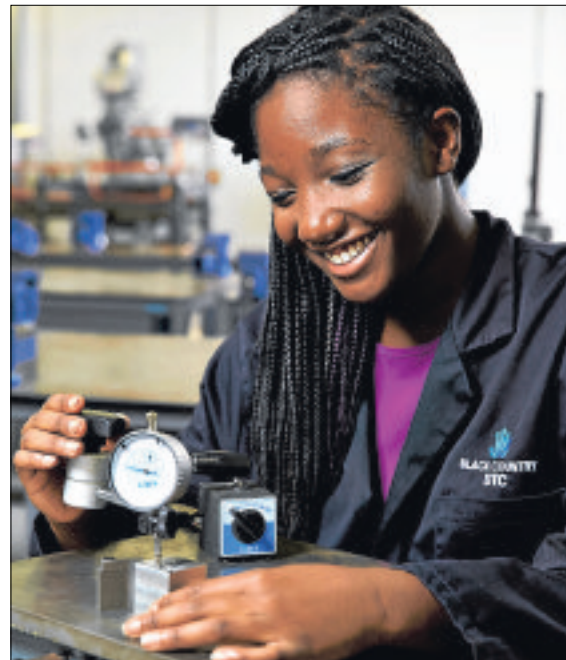

Progressing

Sixteen-year-old Mwaka Musumba, is currently studying engineering Level 3 principal learning and A-level product design and physics at UTC. She said: "I didn't want to stay on at school to do my GCSEs, so thought I'd have a better chance of progressing at the UTC."

"Studying science and engineering appealed to me and my parents were very encouraging."

"The learning style is different here. It's more interactive and you get the opportunity to work on live briefs for employers."

"Last year, I took part in a project where I had to design a product for a local company and present this to senior managers. I was given real feedback and this gave me so much more confidence for when I eventually went into the workplace."

UTC was perfect for Mwaka Musumba to take up engineering Level 3 principal learning and A-level design and physics

"The equipment we use is a lot more advanced than in schools and more similar to that used in the industry."

"I'm now studying product design at A-level and use a rapid prototype machine to create different products."

"After completing Year 13, I'd like to go to university or do a Higher Apprenticeship so I can work in the energy industry looking at renewable resources."

Register for the next UTC open day on March 26 online or just come along to the The Black Country UTC site which is located on Vernon Way in Bloxwich.

Help at hand on benefit changes

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

THERE have been changes to Housing Benefit so that working-age people living in social housing now receive Housing Benefit based on the number of people in their household and the size of their accommodation.

This change, known as the Removal of the Spare Room Subsidy, will help families living in overcrowded accommodation and those on waiting lists to find new homes.

This system already applied to people renting privately so now all tenants are treated in the same way.

If you are affected, the amount of Housing Benefit you receive may have reduced, but there is a range of support to help you adapt to these changes and find a property that is better suited to your needs.

HomeSwap Direct is a national home-swap scheme which allows you to see details of every available social housing property, whether this is just round the corner or somewhere else in the country. There are thousands of homes out there and moving can just be a click away.

Appropriate

To start your free and easy search, visit one of these websites:

www.homeswapper.co.uk/
www.houseexchange.org.uk/www.abritas.co.uk/housing-options-mobility/mutual-exchange.aspx
www.locata.org.uk/

If you don't have access to the internet, speak to your landlord for help.

Swapping your home through your council can provide a simple way of finding properties in your area that are the appropriate size for you and your family. Search with your postcode at: www.gov.uk/apply-swap-homes-council

You can speak to your landlord to see if they have any suitable properties available, or a neighbour that could benefit from switching homes too.

Finding a job or increasing your hours can also make you financially better off and help make up the difference in rent.

Use the Benefits Adviser tool to see

There are plenty of options to find yourself a suitable property within your area how you could be better off in work. Log onto www.gov.uk/benefits-adviser

Jobcentre Plus can help you find work, providing valuable training and work experience which can help you get back into the workplace.

You can also see thousands of job vacancies using Universal Jobmatch and create an online profile to get alerts about jobs automatically matched to your CV. Just visit: www.gov.uk/job-search

As well as increasing your income, you may be eligible for financial support to help with your housing costs. Speak to your council about the Discretionary Housing Payment scheme if you need more help: www.gov.uk/find-your-local-council

Help with changes to Housing Benefit

Working-age people living in social housing now receive Housing Benefit based on the number of people in their household and the size of their accommodation. Pensioners are not affected by this change.

This change helps families who live in overcrowded accommodation or on waiting lists to find a new home. People who rent from private landlords already get Housing Benefit in this way, and this makes it fair for everyone.

If you are affected, you should have heard from your council.

There is support to help you manage these changes, including:

- thinking about downsizing or 'home swapping' to a different sized property
- finding a job or increasing your hours can make you better off
- applying to your council for a Discretionary Housing Payment.

Find out more about all your options at www.gov.uk/housing-benefit or talk to your council.

Tom Jones

The Voice UK BBC1, 6.45pm
As much as we love the BBC's answer to The X Factor, at times you need the stamina of Davina McCall to sit through an entire episode, so get plenty of cushions and snacks for this, the first live round of the singing contest. The brilliant Emma Willis and Marvin Humes introduce the action as the remaining dozen acts fight it out for a place in the semi-final. After three acts in each team have performed, Tom Jones, Will.i.am, Kylie Minogue and Ricky Wilson will choose one act to go straight through to the next stage.

Prince Harry

Harry's South Pole Heroes

ITV, 8pm
Prince Harry and his band of heroes are certainly braver than us – in fact watching him and the wounded servicemen and women from the comfort of our armchair with a warm cup of coffee leaves us suitably ashamed of ourselves. In this episode, the Walking with the Wounded South Pole Allied Challenge 2013 gets under way, and the teams prepare to ski for nine hours a day, hauling 80 kilos of kit in temperatures as low as -40C. But no amount of training could have prepared them for the frostbite, sores and altitude sickness.

Pick of the Week

New series will prove to be far from child's play

Praise be – the Reverend Adam Smallbone is back at last. Two years is a long time between sermons – here's hoping TV's best-loved vicar has spent that time away from our screens coming up with inspiring new subjects and honing his delivery.

Let's face it, his parish could use a few more devotees – inner-city London was always going to be a tough gig, and despite his best efforts, Adam hasn't really managed to win over the locals, unless you count unstable Mick, alcoholic lost soul Colin and lovesick Adoha.

They're all back for this third series, which Tom Hollander, who co-created the sitcom with writer James Wood, says was a dream to make.

"I found it very comforting and reassuring and it's very lovely to do something that you have done before which people have enjoyed," he remarks. "There was none of the stress you normally have playing a new part where you go, 'Oh, I wonder if it works if I do this or if I do that' whereas, because we've done two series there's a relaxation of putting on a, you know, favourite old cardigan or something."

Also back is Olivia Colman. She may have become Britain's premier TV actress since the last run of Rev was aired, thanks to performances in Broadchurch, Run, Accused and The Thirteenth Tale, but she found time in her hectic diary for this.

"There's something comforting about knowing we're back because people liked it, so we're doing something right," she says. "It's a shame you have to do anything on the first day. It'd be nice if it was a write-off because you're just chatting and catching up. It's lovely."

There's about to be a new addition to the couple's lives when we meet him again – Alex gives birth to their long-awaited first child, a girl, in dramatic circumstances.

"The baby belongs to the Parish suddenly," explains Colman. "So, everyone who is knocking on the door anyway is now also knocking on the door to look after the baby, which is very irritating to Alex."

There's also little time for paternity leave, because Adam's parish duties continue to weigh heavy on him. In the first episode, he joins forces with an Imam in an attempt to improve the local community, but is left wondering if his new colleague has a hidden agenda.

Also giving poor Adam a headache are the new Area Dean and Diocesan secretary who seem to have big but destructive plans for St Saviour's.

Kayvan Novak, Joanna Scanlan and Vicki Pepperdine guest star as the newcomers, and the general consensus of opinion from Hollander and Colman is that they're "brilliant".

Colman perhaps sums up Rev's appeal best when she describes it as: "well-written, beautiful and the people are loveable and flawed. It's got a soft underbelly and a humility which is easy to love."

And long may that continue.

Olivia Colman and Tom Hollander star in Rev, Monday, BBC2, 10pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY

The Widower

ITV, 9pm

Watching a drama based on a true story can be an odd experience. Chances are you already know what the outcome is, so where does the tension come from? Thankfully, the screenplay for this three-parter was penned by Bafta-winner Jeff Pope, who's an expert at turning real cases into gripping drama by making viewers wonder how characters will get out of certain situations – or when they're going to be caught. In this second episode, Malcolm Webster is now settled back in Scotland with his second wife Felicity and their son. He's still plotting to murder her, and after his first scheme is thwarted, comes up with a new plan...

My Spiral into Debt Hell

Channel 5, 9pm

It seems everywhere you turn these days a payday loan company is trying to flog you their services with another gimmicky advert. However, after watching this powerful documentary, even if you were slightly tempted before, you'll think again. Household debt is at record levels and this programme meets people who have suffered financial disaster – and it makes for shocking viewing. Among them is Debra from County Durham who thought it would be simple enough to borrow £500 for a computer – the reality was that her loan would turn into a 10-year nightmare and end up costing her £88,000 as well as her home. Plus, a city boy who's paying the price for his lavish lifestyle, and a man who blames his bank for his £42,000 debt.

TUESDAY

The Missing

Channel 4, 10pm

It's a frightening statistic, but every two minutes, someone in Britain goes missing. Fortunately, the majority are found again within 48 hours, but 2,000 a year simply vanish, leaving a host of unanswered questions behind. This moving documentary meets three families who have had to deal with the disappearance of a loved one – a brother, a husband, and a mother. In all three cases, it was completely out-of-character for the missing person to have simply left without contacting anyone, and the police are as baffled as everyone else. The programme finds that the friends and relatives often feel as if they are in limbo, while some have gone to extraordinary lengths to try to bring the missing person home again.

WEDNESDAY

Big Star's Little Star

ITV, 8pm

Don't ever work with children or animals – that's the golden rule in telly, they say, as no-one likes unpredictability. But the leading lights behind this superb series understand that actually, it's the little ones who make the best television – because of their unpredictability. For the producers behind this game show, the youth are comedy gold, as Stephen Mulhern grills them about their celebrity parents and hopes they will spill their deepest secrets. First up, are sporting stars (and they are good sports for putting themselves through this) 2003 Rugby World Cup winner Ben Cohen, 2000 Olympic champion in the heptathlon Denise Lewis and footballer Neil 'Razor' Ruddock. A few laughs at the celebs' expense all in the name of charity never hurt anyone...

MasterChef

BBC1, 9pm

For those of us who struggle to recognise one end of a spatula from the other, the Beeb's signature culinary effort has kept us entertained for years. But now that MasterChef has hit its tenth series, we're left with little choice but to sit up and learn a thing or two, as John Torode and Gregg Wallace return with a new batch of amateur cooks keen to prove their worth. The first six hopefuls take on a new challenge as they prepare their Calling Card, a dish which showcases their talent. But the group are soon whittled down, and the decision lies with John and Gregg as to who will reach the quarter-final.

Masterchef, Wednesday, BBC1, 9pm

THURSDAY

Salting the Battlefield

BBC2, 9pm

Ooh, BBC2, you're spoiling us! Last week viewers were treated to Turks & Caicos, the eagerly awaited second part of David Hare's trilogy of dramas about British agent Johnny Worricker. Hats off to the casting genius who teamed up Bill Nighy and Christopher Walken for that one. Now here's the final instalment of Worricker's story although, disappointingly, it's minus the wonderful Walken. This time, Worricker and Margaret Tyrrell are on the run across Europe, with M15 snapping at their heels. Neither of them had expected life in exile to be so difficult, so Worricker makes a decision that will change his life forever – it's time to confront the all-powerful Prime Minister, Alec Beasley. Only one man can win their battle of wits – but which one?

FRIDAY

A Very British Renaissance

BBC2, 9.30pm

If the latest edition of this documentary is anything to go by, Elizabethan England was an exciting place to be. The country had cut its ties with Catholic Europe, and was now fervently Protestant – at least on the surface. Poets were writing in codes, while art and architecture conveyed secret meanings via mysterious symbols. Dazzling works were also created by Elizabethans who suddenly felt confident thanks to their nation's standing in the world. Among the treasures showcased here by presenter James Fox are exquisite miniatures painted by Nicholas Hilliard, and the earliest surviving example of a globe, created by Emery Molyneux.

Concentric captivates the property market

Concentric Lettings are celebrating a fantastic first year in both sales and lettings, with over 70 properties that are currently let and a growing managed portfolio.

Karen Mills, the Company Director, says she has been, "thrilled by the welcome she has received from the landlords of Cannock and Staffordshire." Karen continued, "As a local girl myself I understand the area really well, but as an experienced letting agent and landlord I know exactly the level of service and professionalism landlords want. This is shown by the level of amazing reviews we have received." Karen also goes on to say, "With the right advice from the start, our properties sell or let normally within a few days of becoming available and, on many occasions, are let before appearing on any of the major property portals, as we use a very proactive approach on-line and via social media. The difference to the landlord is instant rent as opposed to an empty property, which is always a painful experience."

Concentric Lettings rise to any challenge and work alongside their landlords with any problems they have. An example of this was a property that was relentlessly flooding, initially after what seemed to be a genuine reason for the flooding, just some three months later when the property flooded again, it became apparent it wasn't just down to 'heavy rainfall'.

Concentric challenged the local water company supplying the property and, after some deeper digging and Karen talking to the neighbours, it became apparent that there were severe drainage issues. Metres of concrete were blocking the drains causing many homeowners in the area misery. Happily this problem has now been resolved, Karen and the team guided two landlords through this very worrying time and stayed with them until the issue was corrected. Karen says "We go above and beyond our role as agents and that's what makes us different to our competitors."

Office Manager: Amy Procter

"When working with property owners looking to sell their home this service remains the same. We look at market comparisons and again have lots of local knowledge, we don't just go out and tell our vendors what we think they want to hear, we talk to them about actively getting the property sold and won't try and win their instruction with an over inflated market price. We also advise on presentation marketing and how to get the best from that all important viewing."

A special edition pick-up from Isuzu gives best of both worlds

Isuzu UK has enhanced the rugged appeal of its award-winning pick-up range with the addition of a special edition, exclusive-to-the-UK model, the Isuzu D-Max Blade. With the new Blade, Isuzu hopes to attract new customers to the brand including those who may not have considered a pick-up vehicle previously.

The new special edition, which goes on sale in April, boasts a long list of unique style enhancements and technology upgrades certain to help the vehicle stand out from the crowd. Based on a premium model from the D-Max range, the new Blade special edition features more than £5,000 worth of additional equipment and yet is available from just £24,995, representing a saving of £1,000 if the accessories were bought separately. Prices for the new model are £24,995 for the six-speed manual or £25,995 for the five-speed auto, which compares favourably with similarly specced special edition models from Isuzu's nearest rivals.

The head-turning style of the D-Max Blade starts with the bold 18-inch, six-spoke 'Shadow' alloy wheels shod with 255/60 R18 Pirelli Scorpion Zero tyres.

The exterior upgrades continue with a 'Shadow' grey front grille, privacy glass windows, black door and tailgate handles, black roof bars and rear bumper, and heavy-duty side steps. Each exterior addition creates a striking contrast to the two available body colours, solid 'Splash White' or mica 'Cosmic Black'.

The Isuzu D-Max Blade also comes standard with an under-rail bed liner for added practicality while customers can then choose between an Aeroklas hard top complete with internal light or a Mountain Top Black Roller Top Cover which is unique to the Blade and cannot be purchased as a separate accessory. Whichever option customers choose, the tops come supplied and fitted within the on the road price.

The high-value additions to the five-seat pick-up continue inside. Automatic climate control and premium black leather seats – which have been factory upgraded for 2014 and are heated in the front – will cosset Blade occupants. Customers of the new Blade will also benefit from DAB digital radio via a state-of-the-art Pioneer AVIC-F950 6.1-inch touchscreen navigation system, complete with integrated rear safety camera. The Pioneer system offers an enhanced audio experience and convenience over the already class leading 'surround' system found in Yukon and Utah models.

The Isuzu D-Max Blade is matched to the powerful-yet-efficient 2.5-litre twin-turbo diesel engine, producing 163 PS and 400 Nm of torque, while still returning a segment best fuel economy of 38.2 mpg (combined). The running gear has also been carried over by Isuzu, meaning customers benefit from a towing capacity of 3.5-tonnes and 1-tonne payload.

Isuzu UK enjoyed its best-ever sales in the UK in 2013 and continues to be the biggest market in Europe for the Japanese Brand by a considerable margin. Isuzu has ambitious growth plans in the UK, and the new Blade forms an important part of its push into new business areas.

Like all new Isuzu models sold in the UK, the D-Max Blade comes with the company's pioneering five-year / 125,000 mile warranty.

Kia refreshes best budget 4x4 - popular Kia Sportage

It's easy to believe for a moment that the market for compact SUVs hasn't changed all that much in the last ten years, but it's now radically different and the biggest beneficiary of these changes have been Kia, and more specifically its Sportage. That car's been fettleed and refreshed now and still looks the best budget 4x4 not a whole lot of money can buy.

As before, you get a choice of four powerplants. There are 1.7 or 2.0-litre common-rail diesels with 113 and 134bhp respectively - or 1.6 and 2.0-litre petrols packing 138 and 161bhp.

Performance is similar with the 2.0-litre units as both manage the 0-62mph trial in under 11s with the manual gearbox installed. The entry level cars have front wheel-drive, with upper spec models getting all-wheel traction.

The Sportage uses a part-time all-wheel-drive system which sends 100 per cent of power to the front wheels unless slippage is detected and it's automatically diverted to the rear. There's a Lock Mode for off-road driving which splits the available power 50/50 between the front and rear wheels, but it only operates below 25mph. All Sportage models have Hillstart Assist Control to help with uphill getaways and Downhill Brake Control to provide reassurance on steep descents.

The latest car features Kia's Flex Steer system on selected models. This allows the driver to choose between three different levels of power assistance according to preference and where the car is being driven. 'Comfort' mode provides increased help for parking or manoeuvring in tight areas, for example, while 'Sport' lessens the assistance for increased feel and stability at higher speeds. There is also a 'Normal' setting. In addition to this, the windscreen glass has been modified to reduce the amount of noise entering the cabin.

Otherwise, it's still as practical as ever. It just feels a little better built. The generous dimensions of the Sportage are carried over. There's a substantial boot measuring in at 564-litres when the rear seats are occupied - or 1,353-litres when they're folded down. Storage space inside the Sportage includes a six-litre centre console bin, large door pockets and a glovebox that's air-conditioned on some models.

Variants

Prices kick off at around £17,500, which keeps things real and Kia has done a spot of tinkering with the mix of the model line-up. Two additional variants at the top and bottom have been added to the team sheet to further broaden the appeal to customers - an all-wheel drive 2.0 CRDi at entry level and the 1.7 CRDi turbodiesel is now an option on the top spec two-wheel drive model. The 1.6-litre direct-injection petrol unit and 1.7-litre turbodiesel made their debuts in the Sportage and remain the mainstays of the range in the UK.

Equipment levels have also been subtly boosted across the range.

The best-performing Sportage from an economy and emissions perspective is the front-wheel drive 1.7 CRDi diesel which manages 54.3mpg and 135g/km. That's pretty good going. Should you choose petrol power, the 1.6 GDi powerplant returns a combined fuel figure of 44.1mpg and emissions of 149g/km. Should you want an all-wheel drive 2.0-litre diesel, you're looking at 49.6mpg and 149g/km which is very good.

Beware opting for the automatic version though, as this puts a bit of a dent into the efficiency metrics at 40.9mpg and 179g/km.

Like the rest of the Kia range, the Sportage is sold with the excellent seven-year or 100,000-mile warranty. It is fully transferable should the car be sold before the time or mileage limits have been reached. Fixed cost servicing also brings additional peace of mind via the Kia Care-3 and Care-3 Plus servicing package, offering retail customers inflation-proof servicing for the first three or five years. Again, all packages cover the car, not the owner, so are transferable should the vehicle be sold.

This family run-around is certain to create waves

By John Griffiths

If you want to go back to the future, you don't need an eccentric scientist and a nuclear-powered silver sports car.

You can do it for an awful lot less thanks to a car maker which has taken a bold new look at the market, expectations and the concept of value for money.

It hasn't exactly arrived in a flash of blinding light but this manufacturer's latest offering is something of a revelation.

The Dacia Logan is a mid-sized family estate (although for cargo capacity it's not far behind big hitters like the Volvo V70) which is cheap to run, practical but costs half as much as some of its rivals. Dacia calls it an MCV, or maximum capacity vehicle, but in most other fleets its streamlined appearance would earn it a 'sports tourer' tag.

I drove the mid-range Ambiance model, with a 90bhp petrol engine capable of over 56mpg. It could be described as 'no frills' but hardly basic, with a 573 litre load bay which stretches to an impressive 1,518 with the rear seats folded down.

The price? Wait for it – £8,595 on the road and if you are really counting the pennies you could have an entry level model for £6,995.

It's based on a stretched version of the multi award-winning Duster platform, using proven technology, engineering and in many cases parts (include engines) from the Renault group which owns the Romanian company.

It seems even Renault has been surprised by Dacia's success, as it didn't originally intend to sell the cars in Western Europe where much of the market is dominated by badge-consciousness and the need to embrace all the latest, must have gadgetry. But customer demand, particularly from the hard-pressed private buyer spending their own money, means that Dacia (pronounced Datch-ya) looks set to be the next big name in budget motoring.

Using well-established technology, concentrating on basics, limiting such things as colour choices and accessory packs for ease of manufacture, means they can keep prices down. It doesn't mean you have a car which does any less.

Is this a glimpse of the future, if there are still to be cars which the man in the street can afford to buy new? The £8,595 test car, for example, comes with ABS, emergency brake assist, electronic stability and traction controls, hill start assist, twin airbags, electric front windows, a radio/CD player with Bluetooth, remote central locking and split/fold rear seats.

Capacity

It was powered by Renault's latest TCe petrol engine, which also appears in the new Clio range. Its capacity of just 898cc seems unfeasibly small for a car of this size but with well-spaced gearchanges it will go from a standstill to 62mph in a fairly fleet 11.1 seconds.

You don't notice anything lacking on the open road, either, as this mighty atom's secret is turbocharging. Not only does it have more power than the older, normally aspirated 1,200cc unit it has almost twice the torque which makes for smoother progress with less effort.

Fuel consumption averages 56.5mpg, with a low 116g/km of CO2 emissions. The means no road tax in the first year, and just £30 annually after that.

The Renault Group's proven 1.5dCi turbo diesel, of course, has even more torque, is more economical (65.7mpg) and beats the magic 100g/km of CO2 so it's road tax free.

But, model for model, it's also £1,000 dearer so retail buyers in particular have to do their sums. With your average mileage, and the 10p per litre premium on diesel prices, how long would it take for you to break even?

There's also the question of whether the car's main role is for the school run, transporting the dog and other domestic duties, or whether if you're using it as an alternative to a van when the diesel's extra pulling power might be a better bet.

There's not much to say about the way the Logan drives. For most that isn't a criticism: but just does what it does competently. Steering is light, unless you're really working it hard you're more likely to be listening for wind noise rather than the engine, and the ride is compliant. The sub-£7,000 entry level model, the Access, is basically equipped and doesn't, for example, have such luxuries as electric windows or even a radio. But it still has the full safety pack which is standard across the range, including front and side airbags, ABS, traction and stability controls.

The Ambiance tested is better equipped, while the flagship Laureate adds to its specification with upgraded trim, alloy wheels, cruise control, trip computer and electric door mirrors, electric windows on the back as well and front fog lights and yet still costs under £9,000 for the 1.2 petrol version, or £10,795 with the flagship diesel under the bonnet.

The limited number of options includes an upgraded Sat-Nav/audio pack for Ambiance and Laureate versions.

The Dacia story is similar to that of Skoda's transformation by the VW Group – no-one's laughing at Skoda now.

The Dacia name isn't yet that well known in Britain but that will change if, under Renault's direction, it keeps producing cars like this which are the epitome of commonsense, practicality and value for money.

Price: £8,595 (range from £6,995 to £10,795).

Drivetime Suzuki Swift now made even better

The Special Edition Suzuki Swift SZ-L will go on sale tomorrow with a limited production run of 500 units.

The SZ-L is based on the 1.2-litre SZ3, but with additional equipment and features designed to enhance the sporty and fun to drive character of Swift.

All Swift SZ3 models already come well equipped with seven airbags, ESP, air conditioning, USB port and Bluetooth as standard.

SZ-L adds LED daytime running lights and cruise control from the recently updated Swift SZ4, along with extra equipment only available on SZ-L.

Exclusive equipment includes 2-tone metallic paintwork as standard; in either Boost Blue or Cosmic Black body colours with contrasting Cool White roof, rear spoiler and door mirrors.

Inside, silver stitching has been added to the steering wheel, gear gaiter and seats which also have a unique fabric design.

Crucially, the Swift SZ-L offers value for money in terms of running costs and purchase price; the 1.2-litre Dual VVT 94PS engine is one of the most powerful in its class, but offers low emissions of just 116g/km CO2 costing £30 in annual VED after the first year and returns a frugal 56.5mpg on the combined cycle.

SZ-L is in insurance group 11E, the same low group as the rest of the Swift range, making it the ideal purchase for younger Swift fans who want to own a more striking, design led car for an affordable cost.

Additionally, Suzuki Financial Services has included it in their popular PCP Driveplan campaign, SZ-L requires a deposit of just £999 followed by 42 monthly payments of £179 and an optional final balloon payment to keep the car.

Swift SZ-L is available on the recently extended VAT free promotion until the March 31 at £10,899 for three door models and £11,316 for five door models.

MG is on the right track

The MG brand keeps plugging away, and with the launch of the MG3 supermini, it looks to be on the right track. Andy Enright reports.

The MG3 supermini has a lot of convincing to do in a very tough corner of the market. It certainly looks good and there's a punchy 106PS engine under the bonnet.

Efficiency admittedly isn't up with the class best but extra equipment and lower pricing compared to direct rivals mean many potential buyers may not mind that.

The MG3 was designed with the intention of being fun to drive, the chassis having been subjected to thousands of miles of testing on European roads. The first cars offered to journalists to drive in China were rather harshly sprung but MG promised to fit springs and dampers which offered a more supple feel for UK roads.

The engine is a 1.5-litre 106PS four-cylinder unit which naturally drives the front wheels. There's nothing revolutionary about the suspension which is fairly standard set-up with MacPherson struts up front and a torsion beam at the rear.

The exterior styling looks quite smart, if a little supermini-generic.

The interior will come as a welcome relief to anybody who's a bit baffled by the complexity and deep technology of many modern superminis.

Prices start at under £8,500, getting you this supermini-sized car for less than the kind of money you'd pay for a little citycar.

The Vauxhall ADAM is first when putting on the style

Talk to anyone who really knows about cars and they'll tell you how good the latest generation Corsa is. Trouble is, the man in the street still associates the Corsa with the mediocre old vehicles which replaced the Nova and weren't particularly great.

The ADAM rides on a cut down version of the Corsa's chassis and that can only be good news.

It's been extensively re-engineered to suit the demands of the shorter wheelbase. It's ostensibly quite a simple set-up but Vauxhall has invested years of know-how into it.

Up front are a set of MacPherson struts while the rear end utilises a torsion beam set-up. Ease of use on urban roads is enhanced by a CITY mode, which increases the electronic power steering system's assistance at lower speeds.

This is a car that's going to sell largely on whether the styling chimes with new car buyers and Vauxhall certainly can't be accused of going at it half-cocked. There's a lot going on, the design work attributed to Brit, Mark Adams' team in Europe.

The ADAM incorporates a 'floating' roof which is visually disconnected from the body, which works particularly well with two-tone colour schemes. It looks like no other Vauxhall but still incorporates a bunch of existing styling cues.

Like MINI, Vauxhall is looking to appeal to the customer's sense of individuality in the sheer amount of colour combinations and materials.

Wheels range from 16in in size for entry-level cars and there are 17 and 18in options further up the range, with a lowered sports chassis part of the deal.

Unlike many cars which offer striking exterior designs, but an interior which betrays a sudden curtailment of development budget, the cabin of the ADAM is, if anything, even bolder than the exterior.

Riotous

There's extensive use of body-coloured trim inserts, not only on the dashboard but also reaching along the centre console and onto the steering wheel, aimed at giving the interior a real riotous personality.

A seven-inch touch screen interface is the big point of interest from a technological perspective. It's both iPhone and android compatible, and can access internet-downloaded apps in the same manner as the latest Renault Clio and Peugeot 208. Where specified, the navigation and infotainment controls are all marshalled by the touch screen. There's even a choice of headlining, including an LED-lit starlight roof trim.

Prices for the 1.2-litre ADAM start at just over £11,000, so there's a saving of around £300 over the lesser-powered of the two 1.4-litre petrol models. Whichever engine you choose, the ADAM is offered with three trim levels, JAM (fashionable/colourful), GLAM (elegant/sophisticated) and SLAM (racy/sporty).

The latest generation ESP system is standard on all models and it also includes a Hill Start Assist function. The wonderful star-effect roof and a heated steering wheel are options which differentiate the Vauxhall from run-of-the-mill city car contenders and these features are key in a market that's not always led fully by upfront pricing.

Expect 53.3mpg on the combined cycle and 124g/km of CO2 from a 1.2-litre ADAM, figures which improve to 56.5mpg and 118g/km if you specify the extra cost ecoFLEX package.

As well as low rolling resistance tyres, this includes a start/stop system which cuts the engine when you don't need it, stuck in traffic or waiting at the lights.

All enough to make a difference of around five per cent to your figures, stats you can hopefully replicate on a day-to-day basis thanks to an 'Eco Drive Assistant' - basically a section of the trip computer which monitors energy consumption and indicates when to shift up.

Hayes on top but fail to find a winner

Kirby Muxloe 0
Heath Hayes 0
HAYES continued their bid to break clear of the Midland Alliance relegation places. In a game that never scaled any great heights what few chances there were fell to the visitors.

Play was bogged down to midfield for long periods but on 35 minutes Hayes produced the best move of the half when Dan Scragg and Andrew Davies combined well to set up Chris Geldart whose well struck shot from 15 yards looked all over a goal until home keeper Elliott Shilliam produced a magnificent save to turn the ball over the bar.

From the resulting corner Tom Baggott headed narrowly wide.

The second half was much the same as the first. Debutant Dan Green should have done better when set up by the hard-working Dave Waple while young Hayes keeper Ryan Goodwin, growing in stature with every game, never had a serious save to make all the game.

On the hour it looked as if the stalemate had been broken when Waple shot powerfully only to be denied by another top draw save from Shilliam.

Wolves win award as family club

WOLVES have been named League One's Family Club of the Year at the Football League Awards.

But they missed out on the overall prize, as Championship Middlesbrough were named the best family club across all three divisions.

Wolves were one of six clubs nominated for the award for their work in attracting families with initiatives such as Wolves 4 Family Football and the Wolves 7s Campaign.

The ceremony, at The Brewery in London, celebrates the best of the league on and off the pitch.

Wolves midfielder Kevin McDonald missed out on the League One Player of the Year award.

Athletes crowned school champions

PENKRIDGE Middle School has cause for celebration after 25 athletes from Years 5 and 6 were crowned the School Games Level 3 County Champions in Sportshall Athletics, Staffordshire.

Across the county, more than 79 schools took part in the Sportshall Athletics competition. After success in the first round and district finals, it was full steam ahead for Year 5 and 6 pupils to prepare for the county finals at Chase Leisure Centre, Cannock.

Pupils from Key Stage 2 had never before reached the county finals in the five years of the school's participation. The County Final competition included nine teams who had qualified from the different districts, Penkridge Middle being one of them.

Both the boys and girls demonstrated their ability individually and showed their very positive attitudes to working as a team in the running events, obstacle relays, throwing and jumping and speed bounce events. In the final relay, Penkridge were leading by six points against Dosthill from Tamworth. The two opposing schools were in different heats, so it was all dependent on time. Dosthill came third in their heat and Penkridge won their heat but their time was slower than the first three runners of heat one.

After 12 track and field events for boys and girls, the margin was a winning score of just four points.

Head of PE Mr Sutton said: "It's a fantastic competition and I'm extremely proud of the success and the teamwork our pupils have shown".

He added: "It was a very well-organised afternoon with a great atmosphere and demonstrated clearly the athletics talent that Staffordshire has within it."

Previously, the school's Year 8 boys qualified in the district finals and went up against the other nine qualifying teams in the County at Fenton Manor Sports Complex in Stoke.

The seven boys had a strong start in the first relay race and ended up with bronze medals and certificates.

Mr Sutton said: "I am really pleased with the commitment and effort our athletes have shown."

Solid performance aids promotion bid

Cannock 32 Cleobury 10

CANNOCK made a promising start to the game with early possession and strong carries from Phil Painting and Jordan Pincombe.

Tackles from Mike Forrester and Sonny Stanaway stopped early attacks, allowing back rowers Darren Baugh and Jon Freeman to turnover ruck ball.

Solid defence from the visitors eventually forced a scrappy clearing kick and Cannock found themselves 0-10 down.

Cannock started the second half strongly, having several players held up over the line, Sonny Stanaway, Scott Pedley, Freeman, and Luke Jordan all wrapped up for five metre scrums.

Cannock's scrum is always impressive to behold, and this weekend was no exception, Dave Gunter and Mike Forrester replaced at half time for Matt Madson and Marc Lloyd saw no weakening of the beast.

Accurate

Cleobury's own scrum was a solid unit and held out on their own line, Freeman turned down an easy penalty for a short range scrum only to see hands in the scrum give the defending team a simple penalty clearance.

John Shirley throwing in at the line out was accurate as ever and the set piece pressure continued to mount, the breakthrough finally came out wide, slick hands through the backs allowed Gareth Ley to put Dan Mayle outside his man and there was only one man winning the foot race for the line, try out wide-unconverted. Back in the game 5-10. Pedley started pulling the strings allowing the dangerous Josh Humphries more and more space. Cleobury struggled to prevent the flow of the game and a penalty was kicked from under the posts.

From the restart Brookes offloaded to Baugh who ran through the pack, he was eventually stopped but Frost and Whitmell were in support and collected the loose ball. One phase inside allowed Pedley to switch blind and slip a pass to the gliding run of Pincombe who scored.

Now 13-10 and from a line-out Ley turned provider when he drew two defenders and slipped a pass to put Humphries in for the third, converted 20-10. Brookes secured the bonus point with a determined pick and go from the base of a ruck, to score a converted try.

Cannock were awarded a scrum and from the No.8 position Freeman picked up and drove himself over the line for Cannock's fifth.

Next week Cannock travel to top-of-the-league side Harbourne in an attempt to all but seal promotion to Mids 3.

Young gymnasts enjoy a haul of medals

Members of the South Staffs Acrobatic Gymnastics club who have just grabbed a haul of medals

A GYMNASTICS club is celebrating their successful haul of medals at a regional contest.

South Staffs Acrobatic Gymnastics competed at the West Midland Acrobatic Championships in Wednesday earlier this month. The club's team of 33 gymnasts competed against clubs from all over the region in the hope of qualifying to represent the club and West Midlands Region in the British NDP Championships in May. All the Hawkes Green club's gymnasts finished in the top four in all categories entered and 29 won medals. The club will be proudly sending 19 gymnasts to the championships.

Among those who competed were Scarlett Humpage, Loren Bradbury and Paris Green - gold and Hannah Millington, Mia Ingerfield & Leah Nicholls - silver. Pairs Grace Moore and Daisy Davies earned a silver and team mates Chloe Healey and Lexi Wits grabbed bronze.

In the grade two women's pair Sarah Brown and Ellie Potts finished fourth. The young grade 2 women's group of Zakina- Red Hinks, aged eight, Beth Bailey, nine, and Charlotte Bradbury, 10, took the gold medal. Also competing were Shannon Barber, LaurenDodd and BethandD-raisey, Charlotte Dyson, Emily Kolk and Mya Bailey.

Second half of misery for firsts

Cannock 4 Surbiton 6

ON Saturday Cannock went down fighting in their latest NOW Pensions National League fixture.

Needing points to edge clear of the relegation play-off spot, Cannock took on Surbiton, who have already secured their fourth place. By half time the Chase Park side had a 4-1 lead, goals from Dave Beckett, Peter Jackson, Navraj Degun, Harry Jawanda.

However, a second half of disarray resulted in Surbiton adding five goals, four from Matt Daly. It wasn't all bad though, they beat Sevenoaks 4-1 to book their spot in Hockey's premier cup competition the NOW: Pensions Men's Cup final.

Cannock will face NOW: Pensions Conference North champions Brooklands Manchester University in the final after they beat Old Loughtonians 5-4 in the other semi.

In the Midlands Leagues Cannock the seconds beat Northampton Saints 4-0. The thirds beat Belper 4-0. Fourths won 7-0 in their clash with the fifths. The sixths beat Sutton Coldfield 5-0 and the sevenths beat Edgbaston 3-1.

Support is fan-tastic – Jackett

HEAD coach Kenny Jackett says Wolves must reward their fans after the huge response for tickets to the Milton Keynes Dons game.

All 8,800 seats for the March 29 game have been sold after the final 1,200 went in an hour.

"That type of response is something I haven't seen before," said Jackett. "We're really appreciative and it's really up to us now to keep our foot on the accelerator and make sure we don't leave anything out there in terms of our effort and application."

"The support we've had has been fantastic."

Jackett believes the size of the crowds show how big Wolves could be if they continue to be successful.

Pics stay in hunt for play-offs

Whitby Town 0 Rushall Olympic 0
RUSHALL stayed in touch with the play-off race after a valuable point in North Yorkshire.

The Pics suffered a setback on 14 minutes when Dele Adebola was injured, replaced by Karl Ashton.

Further problems came 11 minutes later when Matt Wood twisted his knee but stayed on.

But Pics overcame the setbacks to finish the half the better.

The second half saw Rushall again have the better of the chances, to no avail.

Five minutes from time, Wood fired wide and in injury time Ahmed Obeng hit the side netting.

IT was deja-vu for Cannock as they attempted to secure their return to the national league.

After dominating against Leicester in the previous week, Cannock had the better of the game against a Belper side striving to stay-up. Belper took the lead. The second half was all Cannock but as last week the breakthrough failed to materialise.

FA Trophy heroes sign up for event

HEDNESFORD Town Supporters Association are delighted at the number of former members of the FA Trophy-winning Pitmen squad who will attend a 10-year anniversary celebration evening at Keys Park.

The event, on Friday, May 23, aims to bring together more than 100 supporters, along with squad members and their families, in the Chase Suite at Keys Park, exactly a decade to the day that Barry Powell's men shocked non-league football and beat much-fancied Canvey Island thanks to a late Chris Brindley winner at Villa Park.

Alongside the captain Palmer, goalscoring heroes Les Hines, Anthony Maguire and Brindley, manager Barry Powell, fan favourites' Chris Gray, Darren Simkin and Lee Barrow will also be attending on the night. Daz Hale of Radio WM is compere and will be talking through the run to the final and then the day itself with the former players.

Tickets (hot buffet included), are £7 for non-SA members and £5 for members and can be bought by contacting Scott Smith on 07518144801 or by email office@hednesfordtownfc.com

Lockmen get lamped by Lye side

Lye Town 7 Willenhall 0
A RUTHLESS Lye Town demolished injury-ravaged Willenhall with a first-half seven-goal show, but the Lockmen fought valiantly to keep it level after the break.

On six minutes Matt Johnson's corner was flicked home by an unmarked Stephen Lodge and two minutes later an unmarked Ben Jevons headed home.

James Spray converted a penalty on 16 minutes, Jevons headed home unmarked on 22 before Spray raced away on the right on 25 minutes and lobbed in.

It was six on the half-hour as the ball was diverted in by Spray. Scott Gennard got the seventh on 40 minute, rounding Booth and rolling home.

Former Scholars man dents play-off hopes

Chasetown 1 Leek Town 3

CHASETOWN'S slim chances of the play-offs came to an end as Staffordshire rivals Leek Town ended the Scholars unbeaten run.

It left Craig Harris' men 14 points shy of fifth place with just seven league games remaining.

The Scholars made a bright start and Ramone Stephens was the closest to breaking the deadlock with a right footer

Leek, who beat Chasetown 3-0 in December, showed why they are still very much in the title race with a disciplined defensive performance which eventually led to them taking control of the first half and edging ahead when Tim Grice netted at the near post following build up from John Johnston and Anthony Danylyk.

Blow

Chasetown deservedly equalised though when Simon Brown drove a low shot between the legs of Leek full back Dan Smith and beyond the left hand of Chapman.

Former Scholars man Jordan Johnson saw his free kick deflect onto the crossbar, but then Chasetown's hopes were dealt a blow when Brown was adjudged to have committed a second yellow card offence and the referee Mr Gudger produced a red card for the winger.

With the man advantage, Leek took a stranglehold on the game and looked likely to regain the lead with Ryan Price producing a low save to deny scorer Grice.

The pressure told and it

Football

was Jordan Johnson who swept the ball beyond Price to restore Leek's lead.

The 10 men were defending for large periods and trying to play on the counter attack whenever they could, but it was Johnson who sealed the three points, lifting the visitors into second place in the league table with games in hand, with a sumptuous free kick from 30 yards which curled beyond the grasp of Price.

Chasetown's Nick Welcomme had a late chance to reduce the deficit but his shot was deflected wide for a corner as he bore down on Chapman.

Chasetown: Price, Farmer, Beckett, Slater, Robinson, Jermaine Johnson (Bennett, 80 mins), Butler (Danny Smith, 85 mins), Bragoli, Welcomme, Brown, Stephens (Gould, 70 mins). Subs: Evans, Campbell (not used)

Leek Town: Chapman, Dan Smith, Bell, Dicker, Epsley, Maguire, Danylyk (Hall, 75 mins), Shelley (Mills, 63 mins), Grice (Kinsey, 82 mins), Jordan Johnson, John Johnston. Subs: Donnelly, Bratt (not used)

Waple's treble chance for Hayes

Heath Hayes 4 Bilston Town 1

HAYES progressed into the quarter-final of the JW Hunt Cup with a comfortable win over plucky Bilston. Hayes, with five changes from their regular side, got away to the best possible start with a goal after three minutes.

Tom Baggott broke up an attack and advanced 20 yards with the ball before playing in Dave Waple on the edge of the box. The striker turned his marker before planting an excellent shot into the corner.

The hosts increased their lead on 18 minutes when Baggott headed down a Dan Scragg corner into the path of Adam Green who fired home his first goal for the club.

Waple got his side's third goal with a superb chip from 35 yards which beat Town keeper Chris Turner who injured himself in trying to effect a save.

Bilston started the second half brightly but any comeback hopes were dashed when Waple thumped home a 20-yard volley to complete his hat-trick.

To their credit Bilston never stopped trying and their efforts were rewarded when Adrian Beckford fired home.

Hayes now face Sporting Kalsha at home.

Keep pushing Saddlers told

DEAN SMITH has urged Walsall to build on Saturday's performance at Rotherham as he targets a strong end to the season.

Despite conceding a late leveller, which stretched their own winless streak to nine games, Smith drew plenty of positives from the 1-1 draw. But he says it is imperative his side now carry on that form into this weekend's home game with Leyton Orient.

"That is what we have to do now at home," he said. "We are two games unbeaten so we have to push on. The tempo was much better from us on Saturday." In the first half Rotherham struggled to know what to do with us when we got the ball.

"Unfortunately with the late equaliser it's the way it's gone for us at the moment but I'm proud of the players".

Dream start helps Mikes exact revenge

Boldmere St Michaels 3 Walsall Wood 0
REVENGE is always sweet - The Mikes arrived at the Wood on November 26 boasting a 12-match unbeaten run and were trounced 3-0.

Wood had gone five games better in their undefeated stretch, but it also came to a 3-0 end.

The game couldn't have started better for the Mikes. From the kick off the ball was played back to Adam Wood, his ball out wide right was collected by Ryan Edmunds, he raced into the box and his slide rule ball inside was fired home by Jermaine

Clarke, with just 21 seconds played. It was Edmunds again on three minutes cutting in from the right to hit a low drive that was pushed away at full stretch by Wood keeper Rajaan Gill.

Wood broke out of defence on 30 minutes, Hancox racing clear wide right, his low cross inches behind Taylor Boyce at the far post. Three minutes later Hawkins found Boyce from a central free kick, on the left edge of the box, under pressure he manage to get his shot away but Maher made a comfortable save. Then from a left wing move on 35 minutes a Hancox cross was flicked on by Boyce to Black, the ball taking a terrible bounce and his mistimed shot went wide.

In the second half, the long ball forward paid off for Mikes, a ball over the top of the Wood defence saw Clarke time his run to perfection and race for goal, as Gill advanced to meet him he unselfishly laid the ball off to his left and Edmunds scored into an empty net.

Wood's reply was almost instantaneous, Drew Aiton racing into the box and firing a rising drive just too high. Wood kept pushing but couldn't make the breakthrough that would have put them back in the game.

The killer blow came on 72 minutes, Clarke fought for and won the ball in the centre circle, turned his marker and went for goal before releasing Edmunds into the left of the box, his ball across the box was hit into the ground by Clarke but bounced high over Gill's head and found it's way into the corner of the net.

On 86 minutes Hancox powered through to the left of the box, his low cross took a deflection and all Taylor Boyce could do was get in an acrobatic effort that Maher saved.

Mel glad Anelka row over

BOSS Pepe Mel believes the end of the Nicolas Anelka saga should benefit Albion's bid for Premier League survival.

The Hawthorns head coach believes the departure of Anelka, who left the club on Friday with the Baggies claiming he was sacked, should remove a potential distraction from his team.

Mel's comments came after news emerged the FA will appeal to FIFA to ensure Anelka does not escape punishment for his 'quenelle' goal celebration by moving countries.

He tweeted on Friday that he had quit Albion, only for the club to claim just hours later that they had sacked the Frenchman for 'gross misconduct' over the gesture at West Ham in December and Friday's tweets.

Mel said: "My relationship with Nicolas Anelka was good and he helped me but I hope now the situation is resolved in the best way possible for all parties."

"The club needs all of its forces and energy to move forward."

"We are professionals and not keeping West Bromwich Albion up would be a failure for everyone."

Contract talks are put on hold

RICHARD STEARMAN'S future will remain in limbo up until Wolves' promotion fate is decided after it emerged all contract talks with senior players have been put on hold.

The former Leicester defender has been in excellent form in recent weeks, helping Wolves to six consecutive clean sheets.

PITMEN BACK TO WINNING WAYS

Colwyn Bay 1 Hednesford Town 3

HEDNESFORD Town got back to winning ways in the league with a 3-1 victory that moves them back into third place in the Skriff North.

This was despite the Pitmen playing with 10 men for nearly half an hour in north Wales following Alex Melbourne's sending off.

Football

The Pitmen started well and took the lead in just the sixth minute.

James Osborne's long throw into the box was nodded back to the midfielder and his cross was headed home by defender Paul McCone at the back post.

The visitors continued to push and almost found a second just a minute later only for Charlie Anagho-Ntamark to see his powerful header hit the crossbar following a fingertip save by Bay goalkeeper Chris Sanna.

Smartly

At the other end Hednesford shot stopper Dan Crane had little to do until the 28th minute mark when he smartly turned away Sean Williams free-kick for a corner.

It came as no real surprise when Town did add a second then in the 35th minute. Following a good one-two with Anagho-Ntamark midfielder Melbourne found room in the box and his cross shot was turned emphatically into his own net by Bay striker Rob Hopley.

Right on the stroke of half-time the home side almost managed to find a way back into the game when the Town backline failed to clear their lines and Marc Williams saw his shot claimed on the line by Crane.

Hednesford started the second half in blistering form and made it 3-0 just a minute after the restart. Anagho-Ntamark managed to release Melbourne down the right-hand-side and his first time cross picked out Osborne who headed home past the stranded Sanna.

The home side didn't give up and they saw a glimmer of hope when they reduced the arrears in the 54th minute when substitute Cameron Darkwah stabbed home past Crane from inside the penalty area.

Their prospects increased further when the hard-working Melbourne was shown a straight red for a late challenge on Marc Williams.

However, the hosts failed to really assert any authority on the match and although Sean Williams saw an effort flash just wide of the upright, Hednesford were able to deal with everything which came into their penalty area.

The Pitmen take on Workington on Saturday.

Alex Melbourne's attempt on goal is sliced into his own net by Colwyn Bay's Rob Hopley far left
